Dr. Hull to Deliver Dotson Nelson, Jr., Lectures

Samford research professor and former provost William E. Hull will deliver the Dotson M. Nelson, Jr., Lectures on Religion in Life this month. The lectures are open to everyone in Reid Chapel.

Theme of the three-part series is "Frontiers of a Growing Faith." The lecture schedule is "The Quest for Spiritual Maturity," Tuesday, Oct. 8, 10 a.m.; "Learning the Lessons of Slavery," Wednesday, Oct. 9, 9:15 a.m.; and "God and the Gender Gap," Thursday, Oct. 10, 10 a.m.

Dr. Hull, now minister-in-residence at Mountain Brook Baptist Church, was provost during 1987–96.

The annual lecture series honors the late pastor at Mountain Brook Baptist. ■

Charity Campaign Runs Through October

Samford Charity once again is offering employees an opportunity to contribute to the University and other worthy causes.

Several hundred faculty and staff members already have given or pledged more than $120,000 to the annual fall campaign. The campaign goal is $190,000.

The voluntary giving program supports Samford programs, United Way, Samford Habitat for Humanity and the Employee Emergency Assistance Fund.

Donors may designate their gifts. Any undesignated gifts will be allocated using the following

Reunions, Barbecue, Football: Almost Time for Homecoming

Reunions, barbecue, football and fun for all ages will fill the agenda for Homecoming the weekend of Oct. 17–20.

A Homecoming Parade through downtown Homewood will kick off the schedule Thursday, Oct. 17, at 6 p.m. Comedian Brad Sherwood and the Pat McGee Band will appear on the Homecoming Concert Friday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m. in Wright Center. The SGA will sponsor a pancake breakfast at 11 p.m. in the University Center.

Saturday, Oct. 19, is filled with activity.

Music majors will hold a reunion at 9 a.m. and join the A Cappella Choir to present a Showcase Recital at 10 a.m. in Wright Center Recital Hall. Also Saturday at 10 a.m., Southern writer Terry Kay will be featured in a "Live at the Library" program; the Sciencenter will hold open house with demonstrations; a Bulldog FunZone children's carnival will be held at the tennis courts; and hot-air-balloon rides will be available in Sherman Circle.

The Homecoming Barbecue will begin at 11 a.m. in Beeson University Center.

Samford will host Alcorn State in football at 1 p.m. in Seibert Stadium. Alumni of the Year and the Homecoming Court will be introduced at the game.

McWhorter School of Pharmacy will celebrate its 75th anniversary with a dinner at The Club Saturday night. Reunions of various class years and organizations will be held throughout the weekend. Check with your organization for details.

The Homecoming Worship Service will close out the big weekend Sunday, Oct. 20, at 9:30 a.m. in Divinity Chapel. Dr. Mike McLemore, pastor of Lakeside Baptist Church in Birmingham and president of the Alabama

Habitat House Project Set; Work Starts this Weekend

Samford University students, faculty and staff will build another Habitat for Humanity house in the Birmingham area this fall, beginning the weekend of Oct. 4–5.

The Samford chapter of Habitat for Humanity will lead the effort to complete a house in the Edgewater area of western Jefferson County by the end of November. This area was hit hard by tornadoes several years ago.

Samford volunteers are asked to work on the project Fridays and Saturdays. The work schedule is 8 a.m.–3:30 p.m. Campus student organizations are being recruited to join the effort, but individuals are welcome to volunteer.

Anyone interested in working on the project should E-mail student Matt Weiler, president of the Samford Habitat chapter, at jmweiler@samford.edu. Volunteers can also call April Robinson in the campus ministries office at ext. 2927.

This will be Samford's third Habitat House project. Earlier, Samford volunteers helped build houses in Fairfield and Irondale. ■

Joys & Sorrows

Congratulations to . . .

- Pamela Garner (Business) on the Aug. 22 birth of her nephew, James Alfred Watson III.
- Lowell Vann (Art) and his wife, Mira, on the Sept. 23 birth of their granddaughter, Milia Joy Trask.

Sympathy is expressed to . . .

- Joy Whatley (Education) in the death of her father and Chris Whatley (Controller's Office) in the death of his grandfather, Mr. James Harris.
- Angela Guth (Children's Learning Center) in the death of her mother in August.

Dear Samford Family,

Thank you so much for your many expressions of sympathy and concern during my father's last illness and passing. The beautiful floral arrangement, the many cards, telephone calls, E-mail messages and personal talks were a great comfort to me during this difficult period. Thank you for your thoughtfulness. I appreciate each of you greatly.

ABOUT BENEFITS

Health Insurance Provides More Benefits than Many

Samford's health insurance is provided through Blue Cross Blue Shield of Alabama and is self-insured. That means the premium dollars pay the claims and administrative fees. Blue Cross negotiates discounted fees for services and administers the payment of claims. The healthier Samford employees are, the lower the insurance premium.

The BCBS PMD plan covers hospitalization, doctors' services, surgery and prescription drugs. According to BCBS representatives, Samford's plan is more generous than the plan offered to BCBS employees.

When services are provided at member hospitals by PMD physicians, Samford co-payments for outpatient surgery, physicians' visits and in-patient services are lower than most plans. Services such as accidental injury, hemodialysis, diagnostic lab-work, x-ray, pathology, IV therapy, chemotherapy and radiation therapy are covered 100 percent with no deductible or co-payment.

Not only are Samford benefits richer than most, the premium cost to employees is less. For a complete summary of benefits, visit the BCBS Web site or call ext. 2469. ■

Pharmacy Offers Bioterrorism, Disaster Management Course

Assistant Dean Susan Alverson and Brett English of McWhorter School of Pharmacy are offering an elective course for third-year pharmacy students entitled, "Bioterrorism and Disaster Management for Pharmacists." The course is the first of its kind offered as a formal course in the pharmacy school.

Over the past two years, pharmacy faculty have established collaborative efforts with UAB's Center for Disaster Preparedness and have been active in training and preparation for the state's pharmaceutical response plans to incidents involving mass destruction weapons.

The course is aimed at preparing future pharmacists as first responders to any disaster. ■
