

Christ's Fool

by Marc Burnette

The quest to dance askance at death, to jitterbug the juggernaut of fear's future-fury, flailing\ to flummox the flibbertigibbet in me, but to let there be the threshing blows any silly martyr embraces tarantellasmically,

and wheel from wheat to perichoresis.