From the President

Dear Samford Students:

There are many paths to obtain a higher education degree, but your choice to enroll at Samford indicates you are committed to engaging your mind, body, and spirit so that knowledge may become wisdom in service to human kind.

Together with your professors and many friends, who love Samford and care about you, we form a community of learning and faith that is like no other. We are blessed by the legacy of generations that have gone before us; we sit in the shade of trees we did not plant and we drink from wells we did not dig. The time we spend together will be brief, but across the years we will see how our lives were nourished by our time together.

Less than seven percent of the global population holds a college degree, so maximize your investment as a student. Embrace the opportunity to learn and explore all areas of human knowledge. Extend your hand to build lifelong friendships with those around you. Open your heart to meaningful paths of service. Invite God to nurture your soul.

May you be blessed on each step of your journey.

Andrew Westmoreland

From the SGA President

Fellow Samfordians,

I would like to take this opportunity to extend words of welcome to you for this 2012-2013 academic year at our beloved Samford University. I am looking forward to this year to have an opportunity to serve the Samford community. We here in the Student Government Association (SGA) are ecstatic about this upcoming year. We are excited about renewing ambitions, motivations, and determinations that will be displayed through the bright minds of our university. This year shall be an opportunity for you to paint on your own canvas of your personal development and involvement on campus.

Our university as a whole is working towards making this year better than any year before. I can tell you that our SGA is working every day in order to assure that we are truly For Students, For a Better Samford. We are here to better serve undergraduates in every capacity possible. Our doors are always open to hear the concerns of our student body.

Whether this is your first year or your fifth year, just know that the SGA is here for you. We want to be able to provide you the opportunity for you to leave your impression upon Samford. Once again, we are here for you and for the Samford community; so if you need anything, please do not hesitate to let me or another Executive Board member know. Go Bulldogs!

Best wishes,

Cameron Thomas

CODE OF VALUES

Preamble

We as the Samford community affirm the value of a peaceful and purposeful community, founded on the moral and ethical integrity of students and faculty. We commit ourselves to the Christian values on which Samford University was founded. We expect that our commitment to mutual responsibility and a spirit of cooperation will create a community that is orderly, caring and just.

Worth of the Individual

We value the intrinsic worth of every individual in the community. Our respect for other individuals includes an appreciation of cultural backgrounds different from our own, an understanding of different attitudes and opinions, and an awareness of the consequences of our actions on the broader community.

Self-Discipline

We value personal responsibility and recognize the individual's need for physical, intellectual, spiritual, social and emotional wholeness. We value the full development of every student in terms of a confident and constructive self-image, of a commitment to self-discipline and of a responsible self-expression.

Integrity

We value a campus community that encourages personal growth and academic development in an atmosphere of positive Christian influence. We affirm the necessity of academic standards of conduct that allow students and faculty to live and study together. We value the fair and efficient administration of these standards of conduct.

Respect for Property and the Environment

We value the rights and privileges of owning and using property, both personal and university, and the benefits of preservation and maintenance of property and of our natural resources. In our stewardship of property, we recognize the accountability of our actions to the future of the Samford community.

Respect for Community Authority

We value our privileges and responsibilities as members of the university community and as citizens of the community beyond the campus. We value the community standards of conduct expressed in our system of laws and value the fair administration of those laws, including university, municipal, state and federal laws.

Allegiance to these values obligates the Samford University student to refrain from and discourages behaviors that threaten the freedom and respect every individual deserves.

INTRODUCTION TO SAMFORD UNIVERSITY

Mission of the University

We nurture persons—for God, for learning, forever.

The mission of Samford University is to nurture persons in their development of intellect, creativity, faith and personhood. As a Christian university, the community fosters academic, career and ethical competency while encouraging social and civic responsibility, and service to others.

History

Samford University was chartered in 1841 as Howard College in Marion, Alabama, about 55 miles southwest of Birmingham. It was originally named for the British penal reformer, John Howard (1726–1790), who had no connection with the college, but was an international personality of Christian charity. Howard died in Russia, strongly advocating more humane prisons, and his statue was one of the first installed in St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

The college was moved to Birmingham in 1887 to a site near the present-day airport in the East Lake section. In 1957, it moved to its present campus in the municipality of Homewood. The buildings are uniformly of Georgian-Colonial design. The location was chosen by the firm of Olmstead Brothers, successors to Frederick Law Olmstead, who designed Central Park in New York and many other public spaces.

In 1965, having added the Cumberland School of Law in 1961, the institution reorganized as a university and took the name of a prominent Alabama family as Samford University. Today, the institution includes Howard College of Arts and Sciences, Brock School of Business, Beeson School of Divinity, Orlean Bullard Beeson School of Education and Professional Studies, Cumberland School of Law, Ida V. Moffett School of Nursing, School of the Arts, and McWhorter School of Pharmacy.

Samford is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the associate's, bachelor's, master's, educational specialist's and doctor's degrees. It holds accreditation by numerous special accrediting groups.

Samford University has a close relationship to the Alabama Baptist State Convention, which has been generous in its financial support. Every student enrolled at Samford - undergraduate and graduate, full- or part-time - benefits from the Christian charity and generosity of Alabama Baptists.

Alma Mater

Oh, Samford Alma Mater true
Her halls shall ever ring,
With sounding glories of the past
With plans and future dreams.
On knowledge that we seek, O Lord,
We pray thy blessings true.
With pride we pledge our hearts and minds,
To the Samford Red and Blue.

Fight Song

Fight, Fight, Fight,
For Samford Bulldogs,
Go onward to victory.
Oh, we'll wear the red and blue,
Samford, we're all for you . . .
And we love you, too!
Fight, Fight, Fight,
For Samford Bulldogs,
Go onward to victory.
Oh, we'll give a cheer or two,
Samford, we're all for you . . .
Fight! Fight! Fight!

ACADEMIC LIFE

Academic Life

A significant part of students' life at college is spent in the classroom. Their principal objective should be to acquire the knowledge, understanding and skills needed for effective living.

Academic Integrity

A degree from Samford University is evidence of achievement in scholarship and citizenship. Activities and attitudes should be consistent with high academic standards and Christian commitment, and should be in keeping with the philosophy and mission of the university. When a student is found guilty of dishonesty in academic work, for a first offense, the student will be placed on probation, and the professor will receive a recommendation that the student receive an "FX" in the course. Any student already on probation who is found guilty of dishonesty again automatically will be suspended.

Faculty Statement on Academic Dishonesty

Students, upon enrollment, enter into voluntary association with Samford University. They must be willing to observe high standards of intellectual integrity; they must respect knowledge and practice academic honesty. Those who cheat on an examination or class assignment are not only academically dishonest, but also completely deficient in the scholarly maturity necessary for college study.

Value Violations

An academic integrity value violation is defined as the act of lying, cheating or stealing academic information to gain academic advantage for oneself or another. As a Samford University student, one is expected neither to commit nor assist another in committing an academic integrity value violation. Additionally, it is the student's responsibility to report observed academic integrity violations. Violations of the Academic Integrity Values Statement include, but are not limited to:

Academic Dishonesty

- Copying graded assignments
- Working together on a take-home test or assignments when specifically prohibited by the professor
- Looking at another student's paper during an exam
- Looking at your notes when prohibited
- Acquiring a term paper written by someone else
- Taking an exam out of the classroom when prohibited
- Removing resource material from the University Library without authorization

- Giving your work to another to be copied
- Giving someone answers to exam questions during the exam
- After taking an exam, informing a person of questions that appeared on the exam
- Giving or selling a term paper or class work to another student

Plagiarism

- Copying homework answers from your text and handing them in for a grade
- Quoting text or other works on an exam, term paper or homework without citing the source
- Submitting a paper purchased from a term paper service or acquired from any Internet source
- Submitting another's paper/project as your own
- Taking a paper from an organization's files and handing it in as your own

Conspiracy

- Planning with one or more students to commit a violation of the Academic Integrity Values Statement
- Giving your term paper/project to another student who you know will plagiarize

Misrepresentation

- Having another person do your computer program, course project or lab experiment
- Lying to a professor to increase your grade

Advising

Each student is assigned an adviser in his or her academic department. This assignment is made at the time of admission if an academic major is declared. Students who have not declared a major are assigned to the Assistant Dean of Arts and Sciences until a major is declared. An academic major must be declared after a student has earned 64 credits.

Class Attendance Policy

The classroom is a basic unit of relationships in which learning takes place, and each student contributes to the learning experience of classmates. Therefore, students should recognize that one of the most vital aspects of a residential university experience is attendance and punctuality in the classroom, and that the value of this academic experience cannot be measured fully by testing procedures alone. Class attendance policies are established by each school of the university, and specific attendance requirements are indicated in the syllabus of each class.

Some students participate in institutional activities that require them to represent the university in scheduled events on and off campus. For activities of sufficient importance in the overall life of the university, excused absences are granted. A list of activities qualifying for excused absences is maintained by the Provost's Office. Excused absences do not relieve students of responsibility for the academic work in the class missed. However, students may not be penalized for such absences and must be given the opportunity to make up missed work. These students are responsible for informing their professors, in advance, of the class dates that will be missed because of these activities. Practice and/or preparation for these activities would not be a valid reason to miss class. Ultimately, each student bears the responsibility to be aware of and to comply with attendance and punctuality requirements.

Classification of Students

Credits Earned	Status
0-31	Freshman
32-63	Sophomore
64-95	Junior
96-above	Senior

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

Total Credits

A minimum of 128 credits must be successfully completed. No more than eight credits in music ensembles, drama participation and physical education activity courses may apply toward the 128 credits required for graduation. No more than two credits in physical education activity courses beyond those required for graduation may be part of the combined eight credits. To receive a first undergraduate degree, students must earn at least 50 percent of their total credits from Samford. At least 40 credits must be earned in junior- and senior-level courses.

It is the student's responsibility to see that all graduation requirements are met. Students must meet all requirements for graduation as set forth in the Samford University Catalog (or, if more up to date, any school or department's official publications) in effect at the time of entrance into the major, assuming that there is no interruption in enrollment other than for stated vacation periods. Later changes in the requirements for graduation are applicable to students who proceed through their chosen program in a timely fashion.

The core curriculum courses are:

- UCBP 101 Biblical Perspectives
- UCCP 101 Cultural Perspectives I
- UCCP 102 Cultural Perspectives II
- UCCA 101 Communication Arts I
- UCCA 102 Communication Arts II
- UCFH 120 Concepts of Fitness and Health

In the Howard College of Arts and Sciences, most majors and concentrations require language proficiency at the 202 level.

Students planning to earn Alabama teaching credentials should see their department chairs and consult the School of Education section of the University Catalog for special requirements.

Physical Activity Course Requirements

Most schools require one or two physical activity course(s) in addition to UCFH 120. Students with physical disabilities may consult the Chair of the Department of Exercise Science and Sports Medicine to determine how to fulfill this requirement. If PHED 138 (Water Safety Instructor's Course) is passed, the successful completion of UCFH 120 will fulfill the student's physical education requirement.

To meet the general education physical activity requirement, a student may register and receive credit only once for the same activity course, with the exception of student-athletes participating in NCAA varsity sports. Student-athletes may count a single varsity sport up to two times, once for the general education requirement and once for general electives that count toward the overall 128 credits in the standard degree, provided that degree allows for general electives. For majors that require no physical education activity courses, students may apply a maximum of two (2) activity credits as general electives toward the total credits required to earn a degree.

Convocation Requirements

Students are required to earn 60 convocation credits to receive the bachelor's degree. Fifteen convocation credits must be earned in each of the following categories: Christian faith development, academic lecture, personal and professional growth, and culture and the arts. Students may receive up to 15 convocation credits for faith-based service and substitute these credits for a portion of the requirements in other categories. To record students' attendance at on-campus convocation programs, IDs will be scanned at the conclusion of each event. Students must have a valid ID to receive convocation credit. The number of convocation credits required for transfer students is prorated. For more information, contact University Ministries or the Office of Student Records.

Grading System

Samford University uses the familiar grading system with some variations. Grades are indicated by letters "A" through "F," "INC," "FA," "W" and "WF." The university uses a plus and minus variation with the exception of "A+," "F+" and "F-." In addition, some courses may be taken for pass/fail credit, and these carry "P" or "F" grades. A statement of the meaning of each symbol is found in the University Catalog. Grades represent faculty appraisal of the quality of work. Term grades are assigned by faculty members and can be changed only for just cause and with administrative approval.

Each grade is assigned a numerical value, and quality points are determined by multiplying the value assigned to the grade earned in the course by the credits. These values are as follows:

Students must earn a quality (or grade) point average of 2.0 (a “C” average) in the Samford cumulative average to graduate. Students are expected to maintain satisfactory progress toward graduation. Specific minimum levels of achievement have been assigned for each classification level of students. See the University Catalog for the current requirements.

Grade Appeals

An initial grade may be challenged before the last day of classes of the next full semester. This challenge should be presented to the University Registrar (located in Student Records) after conferring with the instructor, the instructor’s department head, and the academic dean of the school or college in which the course is taught. An “E” or an “INC” automatically becomes an “F” if not removed by the last day of classes in the next full semester after the grade was given. This grade of “F” may not be challenged.

Payment and Registration

Tuition and Fees Payment Dateline for All Students

E-bill notification that a new e-bill has been generated is sent to students via the Samford University e-mail system which remains the official means of communication with students; paper statements are not provided. Students are advised to check their e-mail regularly. Students and authorized users can access the e-bill system at any time.

Registered students will receive an e-bill prior to the payment due date. The e-bill reflects activity up to the date the e-bill was generated. Any activity transpiring after the e-bill generation date can be viewed on the Current Activity section of the online e-bill system. Be sure to select the current term from the drop down box.

Students who register after the e-bill generation date must consult the online system to view their account summary and arrange payment for all charges by the due date for the term regardless of whether or not the charge(s) have been billed.

Payment for each semester is noted on the payment schedule at:

Payment Schedule: <http://www4.samford.edu/admin/bursar/payschedule.html>

Parent link: <http://www.samford.edu/parents.aspx>

Student link: <http://www.samford.edu/subpage.aspx?id=2147484200>

Make payment – E-bill system link: https://secure.touchnet.com/C20180_tsa/web/login.jsp

Delinquency

A 5% late fee will be assessed the day after the due date for all e-bills if payment is not received by the due date. Students may not register for the next semester, receive grades or transcripts and are not allowed to participate in commencement until the past due amount is cleared. The University may charge interest on all amounts past due. Past due accounts assigned to a collection agency may be reported to the credit bureaus and students are charged for collection costs.

In accordance with university policy, students should attend classes only if they are officially registered for the course(s) and all fees are paid.

Course Repeats

Upon the recommendation of their adviser and the approval of the University Registrar, undergraduate students may repeat a course for credit in which they received a “C-” or lower to improve their grade, cumulative GPA and understanding of course content.

When a course is repeated at Samford in which a grade of “C-” or lower was earned, only the last grade, even if it is lower, counts in the calculation of the cumulative average. The credits count only once. Both courses and both grades remain on the transcript with an indication of which course is counted in the computation of the cumulative GPA. The repeated course must be exactly the same course that was originally taken. Courses repeated at other institutions do not change the Samford cumulative GPA.

The deadline for submitting the petition to repeat a course is the last day to add a course in the semester or term the repeated course is being taken. A form for this purpose is available in the Office of Student Records.

A course can be repeated only once. A student may take advantage of this policy for no more than sixteen credits. Repeating a course may influence a student’s financial aid or sports eligibility. Courses repeated after graduation will not change the graduation GPA.

Withdrawal

A student desiring to withdraw completely from the university at any time must obtain an official withdrawal form from the Office of Student Records. The date of withdrawal is the date this form is returned to the Office of Student Records. If a student drops out of the university without permission, the official transcript will show a grade of “FA” in all courses for that semester or term.

- The permanent record of a student who withdraws from all courses within the schedule change period will not show courses attempted for that term.
- The permanent record of a student who withdraws from all courses for a semester or term before the deadline, as stated in the Academic Calendar, will show courses attempted and will show a grade of “W” (withdrew). A “W” is not calculated in the student’s GPA.
- No student who withdraws from the university for any reason is entitled to transcript of credits until the student’s financial account has been settled in the Bursar’s Office.
- A student who withdraws after the deadline, as stated in the Academic Calendar, automatically receives a “WF,” indicating an unofficial withdrawal. “WF” carries the same penalty as “F” and is calculated in the student’s GPA.

Please note: Failure to attend class does not constitute withdrawal. Students are responsible for completing the appropriate paperwork and submitting it to Student Records.

Disability Accommodations

Students with disabilities who seek accommodations must make their request by contacting Disability Resources located in the University Center within the Career Development Office, Room 205. (205)726-4078. A faculty member will grant reasonable accommodations only upon written notification from Disability Resources.

Samford University complies with applicable laws prohibiting discrimination, including applicable provisions of and amendments to Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Executive Order 11246, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs or services.

Use of Electrical Devices

Student use of cell phones, messaging devices and other technology and/or electronic devices (for example, but not limited to: recording devices, music players, PDAs, computers) is prohibited in classes unless specifically permitted by the instructor, and at public events (for example, but not limited to: concerts, convocations, theatre productions, lectures) unless specifically permitted by the event sponsor.

Library

Serving the entire campus community, the Samford University Library combines the Harwell Goodwin Davis Library, and the Frank W. and Clara C. Hudnall Library. The University Library is home to the Marla Haas Corts Missionary Biography Collection, the Alabama Men's Hall of Fame, and the Hellenic Scholars' Library. There are over half a million volumes available through the online catalog. International Studies

Thomas Jefferson once said, “Traveling makes a man wiser, but less happy.” Too often, Americans think of traveling as a highway to happiness. Sandy beaches. Forested mountains. Great restaurants. A study abroad course at Samford is not a trip; it’s a class. When you finish one of these classes, you should be wiser, more knowledgeable, and less happy. Many students are so transformed by the experience, their new perspective dictates a change in themselves, in their environment, and in the world. Perhaps you’ll want to learn a new language, return to work somewhere you studied, become an advocate for a marginalized culture or people, fight to save one of the five languages that go extinct each year. You might even want to make changes in your own hometown because you found out that someone in another part of the world has figured out a better way of doing things. That’s the state of “less happy” the ISO advocates for all study abroad students.

It is, after all, the 21st century, and the Global Village is here. In addition to the 40 courses and 25 faculty-led programs at Samford, there are literally thousands of study abroad opportunities Samford students can take advantage of in the world. If you think study abroad is for you, see a study abroad advisor in the ISO to initiate an education abroad experience for credit.

Eligibility

While some programs give preference to majors and minors, all Samford University students are welcome to apply to study abroad if you meet the eligibility requirements. The applicant must have a minimum 2.5 GPA, must not be on academic or disciplinary probation, and (with the exception of Jan Term) must have sophomore standing or above at the time of participation. Students must have met all prerequisites or requirements for the classes in which they enroll. A student must maintain these standards prior to departure and throughout the term of study, abiding by participation and housing rules for each program; failure to do so will result in dismissal from the program and return home at the expense of the student.

The Daniel House in London

As part of its commitment to internationalization of the curriculum, Samford University provides a special opportunity for students and faculty to live and study in one of the most cosmopolitan and culturally rich cities in the world – London. Daniel House, Samford’s London Study Centre, serves as home and classroom to students and faculty throughout the year in a variety of academic programs.

Daniel House is located in the heart of London near Kensington Gardens, the Victoria and Albert Museum, the Museum of Natural History, and the former residences of Winston Churchill, T.S. Eliot, Alfred Hitchcock, and John Lennon.

More than 130 years old, the Victorian townhouse serves as the setting for a semester abroad program during fall and spring semesters for students and professors-in-residence from the Birmingham campus. In addition to courses taught by Samford professors in their fields, British professors lecture in offerings that focus on British theatre, history, culture, and life. Students may also participate in experiential learning courses or internships to complete their course of study.

During Jan Term, Daniel House is the base for a large number of Samford faculty and students involved in accelerated, special courses that take advantage of the London setting. Two two-week sessions offer a variety of courses focusing on such subjects as art/drama appreciation, English literature, the British health care system, the theology and history of the English Reformation, and London as a world financial center. Students have the option of traveling for the two weeks they are not in class.

Summer Term in London allows students to do an in-depth study in one interdisciplinary course offered in a four-week term. Students may elect to add travel time at the end of their studies.

In addition to an interdisciplinary course taught by the professor-in-residence, courses listed under “Semester Abroad Courses” are offered in the fall and spring Semester Abroad Program only. Courses taught in Jan Term and in the Summer Term in London vary each term. Current information is available from the International Studies Office. For more information on any of the programs based at Daniel House, please contact the International Studies Office in Brooks Hall, 726-2741 or online at www.samford.edu/international.

What is covered by the cost?

Semester Abroad: A program fee includes round-trip airfare from Atlanta, airport transfers in London, accommodations at Daniel House for 14 weeks, daily continental breakfast, weekly meal allowance, cell phone, medical insurance, two excursions in the U.K., a weekend in Paris, and eight nights at the London theatre. Tuition is billed separately. (Expenses not covered include Greater London transportation, spending money, and individual travel and activities, including the two-week travel break.)

Semester Exchange Programs

Hong Kong Baptist University

Samford established a relationship with Hong Kong Baptist University [HKBU] during the 1997–98 academic year that allows three students to study there each semester. Hong Kong Baptist University is a highly respected university founded by Baptists and serves a multicultural mix of students from around the world. Course work is offered in English in almost all areas of undergraduate study. There should be no difficulty in arranging courses at HKBU that meet major requirements at Samford.

Samford students approved to attend HKBU pay Samford tuition. In addition, students are responsible for the cost of accommodations, meals, round-trip airfare, an administration fee set by HKBU and other personal expenses. Financial aid is available for those who qualify. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for information. Samford students share a two-person room with a Chinese roommate. Sophomore, junior or senior students interested in applying to HKBU should contact the International Studies Director in Brooks Hall or call (205) 726-2064 early in the semester prior to desired attendance at HKBU.

Pädagogische Hochschule, Weingarten

In 2006, Samford University established an exchange program in Germany with Pädagogische Hochschule Weingarten, or the Weingarten University of Education. Located in the picturesque town of Weingarten, the city forms part of a thriving community in southern Germany near both Lake Constance and the Alps. The majority of students at the University of Education follow a basic undergraduate curriculum in education, though the program is open to Samford students in all different disciplines. The University offers a wide variety of subjects which include humanities, fine arts and physical education. Successful Samford exchange students may study at the University for either one semester (spring semester only) or a full year. Samford students pay Samford tuition, room, board, round-trip transportation, local transportation, medical insurance and health service fees, passport and visa costs, course materials, and personal and incidental expenses. Financial aid is available for those who qualify. Prior German language experience is preferred for applicants. Sophomores, juniors and seniors who are interested in applying to Weingarten should contact the International Studies Director in Brooks Hall or call (205) 726-2064 early in the semester prior to intended attendance.

SWU, Seoul

Seoul Women's University [SWU] offers an exchange program during the fall and spring terms. Successful semester exchange students earn 12–18 credits, applied appropriately. Samford students pay Samford tuition, SWU room, SWU board, round-trip transportation to Seoul, local transportation in Korea, medical insurance, health service fees, passport and visa costs, course materials, and personal and incidental expenses. Financial aid is available for those who qualify. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for information.

Also available is the Bahrom International Program, a three-credit, four-week summer program that guides students to experience various aspects of Korean culture: history, contemporary issues, religion and thought, architecture, food, film, politics, economics, music, and more. All participants are matched with a Korean partner. The language of instruction is English. Successful students receive three academic credits at the upper level from Samford to use as electives or as an appropriate course substitution on their transcripts. Students pay Samford tuition; there is a registration fee payable to SWU. Participants also pay additional personal expenses, including round-trip airfare. A valid passport and a student visa are required.

For more information and an application form, contact the International Studies Director in Brooks Hall or call (205)726-2064.

University Blas Pascal, Argentina

In 2011, Samford established a relationship with The Universidad Blas Pascal in Córdoba, Argentina. Blas Pascal (named after the French philosopher and mathematician Blaise Pascal) is the largest private University in Córdoba. UBP offers a special school for foreign students as well as regular University courses. Advanced students will have to prove advanced proficiency in Spanish before being allowed to take regular University courses. UBP offers a wide variety of courses, mainly in Spanish, but also offers some courses in English, primarily in the English department. Internships and service learning opportunities are also possible.

Samford University and The Blas Pascal University have a direct exchange agreement. Up to two Samford students may go to Córdoba each fall semester. Samford students who choose to take courses in Córdoba are responsible for the following: Samford tuition, travel costs to Córdoba, the cost of room and board in Córdoba, and other incidental costs. Although a specific level of Spanish language ability is not required, it is strongly suggested that students have at least an intermediate proficiency in Spanish prior to going to Córdoba, with advanced being preferred. Students interested in applying to UBP should contact the International Studies Director in Brooks Hall or call (205) 726-2741 by April 1.

Fall Term only: August to December

The Université du Québec à Chicoutimi, Canada

The University of Quebec at Chicoutimi is one of the smaller branches of the UQ system with fewer than 7000 students. UQAC has a small and easy to navigate campus located on the edge of downtown Chicoutimi. Students with less advanced French will take courses in the Ecole de langue française et culture québécoise. More advanced students may take regular University courses, after passing a proficiency exam. UQAC offers a full curriculum as expected at a full branch of the largest University system in the province. Most courses are in French, however, there are some offerings in English. Internships and service learning possibilities exist.

Samford University and The University of Quebec at Chicoutimi initiated a direct exchange agreement in 2012. Up to two Samford students may go to Chicoutimi each fall semester. Samford students who choose to take courses in Chicoutimi are responsible for the following: Samford tuition, travel costs to Chicoutimi, the cost of room and board in Chicoutimi, and other incidental costs. Although a specific level of French language ability is not required, it is strongly suggested that students have at least an intermediate proficiency in French prior to going to Chicoutimi. Students interested in applying to UBP should contact the International Studies Director in Brooks Hall or call (205) 726-2741 by April 1.
Fall Term only: August to December

Semester Abroad

This is where the “thousands of opportunities” come in. On the ISO webpage (www.samford.edu/international) is a link to the Study Abroad Student Guide. Finding a semester abroad anywhere in the world is easy. The active link takes you to StudyAbroad.com where you can search by country, academic major, and term to find a program that is perfect for you. Once you have identified a target program, make an appointment with a study abroad advisor in the ISO to get the ball rolling. It is advisable to start this process a year in advance.

Language Study Abroad

Samford’s Department of World Languages and Cultures, through affiliations with institutions abroad, offers numerous opportunities for living and studying in the culture of a target language.

Summer Programs

Samford in Spain Program gives students the choice of studying for five or nine weeks at the Estudio Sampere in Madrid and Salamanca. Students can study in France for five weeks during the summer under the tutelage of French professors at the Université Stendhal, Grenoble. Students of German are offered the opportunity to study for five or ten weeks at Sprachinstitut-Trefpunkt in Bamberg, Germany.

January Term

Small, intensive Spanish classes are held for three weeks at the Centro Lingüístico Conversa in Santa Ana, Costa Rica.

Summer Internships

In addition, international internships that require the use of another language are arranged on an individual basis in various professional fields, such as business and missions. For further information about these opportunities, contact the Department of World Languages and Cultures at (205) 726-2742 or (205) 726-2747.

Withdrawal and refund policies for international study-abroad programs are different from policies for on-campus programs, as are policies regarding financial aid. Before registration in any study-abroad program, please see the appropriate office(s) for policies.

Computing Services and Resources

Samford University provides a wealth of computing resources to its community. Highlights of these resources include:

Computing Assistance

Computer assistance is available from the Enterprise Support Services Group, 326 Brooks Hall. Help is available Monday–Friday; 7 a.m.–7 p.m. Call 726-2662 or e-mail support@samford.edu for additional information. The general-access computing labs are staffed by student laboratory assistants who can help with the use of the resources located in the labs. Computing resources and assistance are free of charge to Samford University students.

Campus Portal Services

All members of the Samford community have access to a variety of computing resources. A Campus Portal via the Web is the entry point from which all members of the campus community can tap into academic resources, administrative services, community information, e-mail and the Internet—all online, from anywhere. Some of the administrative resources available to Samford students are grades, class schedules and account payments. Upon admission to Samford University, students can go to the Samford home page and log in to the Campus Portal using the user name and password provided by Technology Services.

Computing Laboratories

Five general-access computer laboratories are available to every student, except during times when one or more of the labs may be scheduled for classes. Several academic departments or schools also have computing labs that support their specialized needs. The general-access laboratories offer a substantial suite of software to satisfy routine needs, such as word processing, as well as more specialized needs, such as page layout, presentation preparation or statistical analysis. Each computer in the general-access computing labs is connected to the campus network, which is in turn connected to the global Internet. This gives every Samford student access to the World Wide Web and other networked resources. For more information about laboratory resources, see www.samford.edu/labs.

Residence Hall Network Access

Each residence room has an Ethernet port per student, allowing students to connect their personal computers to Samford's computer network. Additional information regarding the minimum computer configurations can be found at www.samford.edu/ts. Wireless networking is also provided to resident and non-resident students. More information about the wireless network can be found at www.samford.edu/wireless.

The Enterprise Support Services Group is responsible for providing assistance to students wishing to connect to the Samford University computing network. Nonresident students may access campus computing resources through an Internet service provider. For further information about computing resources at Samford University, e-mail support@samford.edu or call 726-2662.

Library Resources

The online catalog for the Samford library and several other library-related resources are available through the campus network. Samford is an active participant in the Network of Alabama Academic Libraries and other consortia that enhance the resources available to the Samford community. For more information about library resources, see <http://library.samford.edu>.

The Interfraternity Council [IFC] acts as the liaison between the three fraternities belonging to the North American Interfraternity Conference, other national umbrella organizations are represented here at Samford. The IFC promotes leadership within member chapters and monitors the activities of member chapters. The IFC is composed of two delegates from each fraternity and four executive officers.

The National Pan-Hellenic Council [NPHC] serves as the coordinating body for the historically African-American fraternities and sororities. NPHC serves to unite the active Samford chapters for one collective voice to speak on issues, coordinate joint programming, and create a sense of peer accountability for the chapter and individual member actions (when called upon). The Council is comprised of eight officers representing the community and delegates from each active chapter.

The Panhellenic Council [PC] coordinates the five sororities belonging to the National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) and are represented here at Samford. Council (IFC), National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) and Panhellenic Council guidelines (Panhel), may be subject to disciplinary sanctions applied by those entities in addition to university sanctions.

Students entrusted with leadership positions on campus should be familiar with the Samford Code of Values and are expected to demonstrate behavior consistent with the Code of Values. Dining Services and Meal Plan Requirements

Samford University provides a variety of food services for students, faculty and staff. More than just a place to eat, these facilities are a common meeting ground and center of campus social activities for resident students, commuting students, faculty and staff. Campus Dining, Inc. provides the management of all dining services on campus. All facilities are located in the University Center.

The Dining Hall (cafeteria) provides 21 meals per week. Only breakfast on Saturday and Sunday are not served. Unlimited selection from the standard cafeteria line to specialties such as a pizza bar, deli, short-order line, salad bar, ethnic option and regular specials are available in the Dining Hall. Guests may also have unlimited seconds. Diners must observe the following policies:

- Students must bring their Samford ID/meal card each meal.
- Students may use only one scan per meal on their basic plan. (See information on declining balance below.)
- Food may not be taken out of the Dining Hall.
- Only the student identified on the card may use the ID. Use by another student may result in the card being voided. Lost cards should be reported immediately to the Office of Public Safety and Emergency Management, located in the University Center, at 726-2020. The card will be voided and replaced.
- Changes to the meal plan must be executed before the second week of classes commencing.

The Food Court featuring national franchise, fast-food vendors is located on the ground floor of the University Center. These facilities are open for more extended hours than the Dining Hall and are an excellent place for snacks or meals.

Students, staff and faculty may purchase an advance declining balance credit that is entered on their ID cards and which may be used in the Dining Hall or the Food Court. Additional deposits may be made to this account when the balance is used. This provides a convenient and more rapid method than paying cash at each meal. However, meals in the Dining Hall or Food Court may be purchased on a cash basis also. The declining balance credit should be purchased directly from the Bookstore in the University Center in an amount of no less than $25 per purchase.

Required Meal Plans

Resident students are required to purchase a regular meal plan. Three plans are available: 19 meals per week, 12 meals per week or 7 meals per week. All freshmen are required to have the 19-meal plan regardless of hours transferred in or completed. Students who have at least 24 credit hours but less than 64 credit hours may choose the 19- or 12-meal plan. Those who are full junior status and have completed at least 64 credit hours may choose any of the three plans. A $130 declining credit balance is included in each meal plan. The declining balance credit should be purchased directly from the Bookstore in the University Center.

Commuters and resident students who use the declining balance in their basic meal plan may add additional funds to their declining balance in any amount ($25 minimum) through the Bookstore in the University Center. These additional funds are available until used and are not lost at the end of each term.

Emergency Notification

Rave Alert Wireless Short Message Service

All Samford students and employees are automatically registered for the free Rave Alert system to receive emergency notices via their Samford e-mail addresses. Students and employees also may opt to receive text messages to their mobile phones by registering a mobile phone number online. (Mobile service plans may charge for the delivery of text messages.) Follow the steps below to register a mobile phone number:

1. Go to www.getrave.com/login/Samford and log in with your Samford-issued user name and password (the same user name and password for e-mail and other Samford services).
2. New users will be prompted to enter a mobile phone number. Return users should click the “Edit” link in the box for a mobile number.
3. Enter a mobile phone number in the space provided and proceed to the confirmation steps.
4. The Rave Alert system will send a test message to your mobile phone. The message will contain a code for you to enter on the website to confirm receipt of the message and complete the registration process.

The Rave Alert system allows users to add up to three e-mail addresses and three telephone numbers to receive notices. This allows one to add a parent, spouse or other party interested in receiving university emergency notices.

Use of the Rave Alert system is restricted to emergencies. Information supplied to the Rave Alert system will not be used to send general university announcements or other nonemergency communications.

If an emergency situation exists, the carillon (bell tower) atop Davis Library may ring a single bell for five minutes. Check for e-mail or text messages that contain additional information.

Severe Weather

The most likely emergencies are weather related. Public Safety and Emergency Management personnel monitor the National Weather Service for warnings specific to the campus and surrounding area. Emergency notification systems are activated only when there is a direct threat to the Samford campus. Jefferson County emergency sirens are sounded when there is a tornado warning for any part of the county and may be audible even though Samford has not activated its emergency notification system. However, take cover until you have assurance that the warning does not include the Samford campus.

Closing of the University

Inclement weather or other events beyond the control of the University that might cause risk or danger to students, faculty, and staff may occasionally result in changes to normal University operations, including cancellation of classes or events; the calendar schedule may be adjusted. Recorded announcements of weather-related or other closings of the university can be heard by calling the SAM-INFO (205-726-4636) message system. In addition, the Office of Communication notifies local radio and television stations of the closing. In case of emergency, the RAVE alert system is activated.

The HUB

Located in the University Center, the HUB is the 24/7 service center for campus. It serves as a storehouse of information about numerous and varied activities happening on the university campus and offers a one-stop shop for after-hours needs. Whether a student has a maintenance issue in their room in the middle of the night, or a group of students need information about where to grab a late night snack, HUB team members will be a resource. The number for the HUB is (205)726-2407. The HUB is managed by the Department of University Services.

The Post Office is located on the first floor of the University Center, adjacent to the Food Court. All U.S. mail services are provided here, including registered, certified and insured mail, purchases of stamps and postal money orders, and Express Mail Next Day Service. An interoffice (campus mail) service is available, through which mail may be forwarded to students, faculty and offices on campus free of charge. See restrictions for this service at the Post Office.

All undergraduate students are assigned a campus post office box. This box serves as the official university address for undergraduate students. All mail is sent to this box. Students may find their box numbers and combinations on the Samford Portal under personal information. Graduate and evening degree students are not assigned boxes.

Mail should be addressed in the following format:

Student's Name

Box 29XXXX

Birmingham, AL 35229

Post Office hours are 10 a.m.–4 p.m., Monday–Friday. Students are encouraged to check their boxes daily.

Students who are not enrolled at the university during Jan Term or Summer Terms, or are in London, must leave forwarding addresses in the Post Office prior to departure.

Public Safety and Emergency Management

General Policy

Samford University maintains an Office of Public Safety and Emergency Management [PSEM] as a proprietary function of the university with jurisdiction to enforce the rules and regulations of the university on university property, as well as the laws of the U.S. government and the state of Alabama. The Office of PSEM is staffed 24 hours a day to provide immediate availability for emergency response, security and traffic patrols, monitoring people on campus and other services relevant to the campus community. The Office of PSEM is located on the second floor of the University Center, Room 202. Members of the department maintain a close working relationship with local, state and federal law enforcement authorities and other emergency service agencies on matters related to campus safety and security.

Any incidents involving suspected criminal activity or violations of university rules and regulations related to the safety and security of people or property should be reported to the Office of Public Safety and Emergency Management. The department maintains records of incidents that have occurred on campus, and such statistical data is available in public safety's annual report.

The ultimate responsibility for personal safety rests with each individual. Individuals should be aware of their surroundings and potential risks to personal safety; exercise caution and take reasonable actions to protect themselves; walk with friends in lighted areas at night; keep residence halls secure; lock room doors; do not prop open outer doors; know building evacuation procedures; know how to contact proper authorities; drive defensively; and report suspicious activities to the Office of Public Safety and Emergency Management.

A safety escort service is available for all students during the day or night. Escorts are provided to any destination on campus. The escort service is provided for safety-related reasons only. Because there is safety in numbers, groups of three or more students are encouraged to walk to their destination. The escort is given by either foot or vehicular patrol. An escort may be requested by calling (205)726-2020 or stopping by the PSEM office located in room 202 of the University Center.

Access to the campus is subject to control at all times. During regular business hours, vehicles may access the campus through the main entrance or the southwest gate. Except for special events, the front gate is closed at 10 p.m., and controlled access is established at the southwest entrance from 10 p.m. until 6 a.m. People entering or departing the campus are subject to security checks for valid identification, campus destination or other relevant information.

Academic and administrative buildings are open during regular business hours. After closing hours, buildings are patrolled on a regular basis to maintain security of property in the buildings, to prevent unauthorized entry and to assure proper operation of facility equipment. After-hours access to the buildings must be authorized by appropriate university officials. Routine patrols and periodic building inspections are performed to assure the security of facilities. When deficiencies are discovered, the appropriate department is notified as soon as possible.

Questions concerning benefits must be directed to your insurance company. Referrals, deductibles, non-covered services and co-pays are the patient's responsibility. UHS is a participating provider with several health insurance carriers. Refer to the UHS site at www.samford.edu/healthservices for an updated listing.

Pre-Certification / Referrals

If required by the student's insurance carrier, pre-certification or referrals must be obtained prior to visiting UHS. This is the responsibility of the student to obtain.

All students living in university housing are required to submit the Health Form in addition to the Immunization Record. The necessary physical examination must be within twelve months of submission to UHS and will only be accepted on the Health Form provided. The required forms can be obtained through the Office of International Studies or at www.samford.edu/healthservices. Deadline for submission

All required documentation must be submitted to UHS no later than two weeks following the first day of class. Failure to do so will result in a hold on the student's record and a non-refundable $150 fine. Residential students may also be subject to removal from University Housing if their documentation is not complete by the deadline.

Telephone Services

Student Telephone Service

Local telephone service is included in housing charges. Telephones are not included and must be provided by the student. Resident students can dial any local or intra-campus call with no additional charge. Samford no longer provides long-distance services to students. Most students use long-distance services provided by their personal cellular telephone service plan. Students who need long-distance services should arrange with a long-distance carrier and use that carrier's access (usually dialing an 800 number) to make long-distance calls. For more information regarding telephone service, contact Telephone Services at 726-2996.

A student may be reinstated by paying the balance in full, plus a $100 reinstatement fee. Following this payment, the student will receive a clearance slip from the Bursar's Office to provide to Student Records as required to re-establish the student's class schedule. Late fees are not reversed upon reinstatement.

Students making changes to their schedule after the e-bill has been sent (usually at the beginning of a term or during drop/add) are required to make payment in full by the e-bill due date for the term, including additional charges resulting from the changes even though they may not have received an e-bill for these additional charges. Failure to make full payment will result in registration cancellation the next business day after the end of the drop/add period as noted in the academic calendar for your classification.

E-bill generation, payment, late fee assessment and registration cancellation dates for each semester/monthly e-bill are noted on the payment schedule at:

Other Services, Requirements and Costs

Activity Fees

Tennis, swimming, racquetball and many other recreational activities are available without charge. The field house has an indoor jogging track. Outdoor activities, such as white-water rafting, rappelling, etc., are sponsored by the Student Government Association. Fees are charged to cover the actual cost of these activities.

Check Cashing

The Bookstore is authorized to cash checks up to $50 per day for a student whose account is in good standing. The face of the check must have the student's name, local address, telephone number and student identification number. Students must present a valid photo ID. A student who presents a check to Samford University that is not honored by the bank will be charged $30. If that check is not redeemed within 10 days of notification, the student may be subject to disciplinary or legal action. All check cashing privileges are revoked after the third returned check.

Medical Insurance for Students

A student injury and sickness insurance plan is available to undergraduate and graduate students and their dependents. All students will be required to provide proof of medical insurance coverage. Any student not able to provide proof of coverage will be required to obtain a policy from the University's approved carrier and the charge will be posted to the student's account.

Based upon Federal Regulations and University policy, all F and J visa holders must have health insurance coverage for themselves and all dependents during residency in the U.S. Insurance may be obtained by the student independently or purchased through the University but must contain certain required coverage. Proof of coverage is required before registering for classes. Information about specific policy carriers, minimum coverage, and premium costs are available from the International Studies Office at (205) 726-2741.

Membership Fees

Some student organizations have an annual membership fee. In addition, Greek organizations have monthly dues along with an initiation fee. These fees are charged directly by such organizations and will not be posted on student accounts.

Personal Property Insurance

Students at college have a large investment in desktop computers, laptop computers, television sets, CD and DVD players, radios, cell phones, cameras, PDA's, calculators, mini-refrigerators, clothing, text books, CD's, DVD's, albums, and other personal property. A college or university is not liable for these losses simply because the loss occurs on campus.

All students, especially those who live in residence halls, should insure their personal property either through their parent's homeowners insurance or through a private insurance policy. The University has established an insurance program through National Student Services, Inc. This insurer provides personal property insurance for students at over 1,000 colleges and universities. For more information on student personal property insurance see www.nssi.com or pick up a brochure at the Residence Life Office, 106 Beeson University Center.

Financial Aid Information

Students seeking financial aid should file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) on line at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Our priority date is March 1 for the upcoming academic year.

Students who filed the FAFSA on or before that date will comprise the first group for which we package and award financial aid for the upcoming academic year. FAFSAs filed after March 1 will be processed in the order they are received. Students may obtain information regarding financial aid online at www.samford.edu/admin/financialaid or by telephone at (205) 726-2905 or toll free at 1-800-888-7245. Students are encouraged to use these resources for questions regarding financial aid at Samford University.

Drop and Add Policy for All Students

Class Drops and Adds

Drops, adds and other changes in a student class schedule that do not involve complete withdrawal from school are subject to the following rules.

1. During drop/add, if a schedule change results in a reduction of the student's total credits (less than full-time), tuition may be adjusted within 30 days. Any reduction in a student's course load may result in an adjustment in the student's financial aid.
2. After the last day to drop course(s) without financial penalty, dropping will not result in a reduction of charges for tuition or fees.
3. There are no refunds of fees unless the course related to the fee is dropped within the drop/add period, or one withdraws as outlined below.

Charges will be adjusted according to these financial policies and the credits taken by the student. Complete withdrawal from the University is covered under the refund and withdrawal policy.

Withdrawal Refund Policy for All Students

Student Withdrawal

The University is required to contract for a substantial amount of goods and services in advance. Most of these expenses are fixed and are not subject to change on short notice. Under certain circumstances, refunds are available to students who officially withdraw from the University. A student desiring to withdraw from the University must obtain an official withdrawal form from the Office of Student Records. The form must be submitted to the Office of Student Records when it is completed. This policy applies to all terms including semesters, summer terms and Jan term. If a withdrawal results in a tuition reduction and the student has received financial aid, some of the aid could be required to be returned by the University. In such cases, the student will be required to reimburse the University.

Withdrawal Refund Policy for Fall and Spring Semesters

1. In case of withdrawal or suspension within the first week of the semester, the student may receive a refund of 100 percent of tuition and room rent for that semester. The first week of a semester ends on the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.
2. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the first week of the semester, but before the end of the second week of the semester, the student may receive a refund of 90 percent of tuition and room rent for that semester. The second week of a semester ends on the first Wednesday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.
3. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the second week of the semester, but before the end of the third week of the semester, the student may receive a refund of 75 percent of tuition and room rent for that semester. The third week of a semester ends on the second Wednesday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.
4. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the third week of the semester, but before the end of the fifth week of the semester, the student may receive a refund of 50 percent of tuition and room rent for that semester. The fifth week of a semester ends on the fourth Wednesday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.
5. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the fifth week of the semester, but before the end of the ninth week of the semester, the student may receive a refund of 25 percent of tuition and room rent for that semester. The ninth week of a semester ends on the eighth Wednesday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.
6. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the ninth week of the semester, no refund of tuition or room rent is available.
7. In case of withdrawal or suspension, a board plan (meal charge) refund shall be calculated on a pro rata basis.

Withdrawal Refund Policy for Jan Term

Jan Term refunds are based on days instead of weeks, and the following applies. In case of withdrawal or suspension:

- On first and second day of classes, the tuition and room rent refund will be 100 percent.
- On the third day of classes, the tuition and room rent refund will be 90 percent.
- On the fourth day of classes, the tuition and room rent refund will be 75 percent.
- On the fifth day of classes, the tuition and room rent refund will be 50 percent.
- On the sixth day of classes, the tuition and room rent refund will be 25 percent.
- After the sixth day of classes, no tuition and room rent refund is available.
- Board plan (meal charge) refund will be calculated on a pro rata basis.

Withdrawal Refund Policy for Summer Term

Summer term refunds are based on the number of weeks as follows:

1. In case of withdrawal or suspension before the end of the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty, the student may receive a refund of 100 percent of tuition and room rent for that term.
2. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the last day to drop course(s) without financial penalty, but before the end of the first week of the term, the student may receive a refund of 90 percent of tuition and room rent for that term. The first week of the term ends on the first Friday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.
3. In case of withdrawal or suspension after the first week of the term but before the end of the second week of the term, the student may receive a refund of 75 percent of tuition and room rent for that term. The second week of the term ends on the second Friday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.

The third week of the term ends on the third Friday following the last day to drop a course(s) without financial penalty.

Financial Aid

The mission of the Office of Financial Aid at Samford University is to assist students and their families in financing the costs associated with obtaining a Samford education. The Office of Financial Aid is located on the first floor of Samford Hall. Office hours are 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m., Monday–Friday.

To ensure consideration for all potential sources of funds, students are strongly encouraged to submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid [FAFSA]. The FAFSA may be filed annually after January 1 of each year at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

The priority date for completing the application process is March 1 preceding the beginning of the applicable academic year. This means that the FAFSA should be received by the federal processor on or before March 1. Students in this priority group will be the first for whom Samford packages and awards financial assistance. Applications for financial assistance received after March 1 will be processed on a rolling basis.

Samford provides considerable financial resources to students who have the capacity to contribute to the life and values of the campus community and to benefit from educational experiences offered by the university. If a student receiving institutional aid (e.g., academic, leadership, athletic, ministerial) is responsible for a value violation, and the sanction is loss of privilege, probation, residence hall suspension, university suspension or expulsion, the person and/or department head responsible for recommending the aid award to the student will be notified and the award may be cancelled for a period of time.

Student Employment Opportunities

Campus work opportunities for students are available through two programs: The Federal Work Study Program [FWS] and the Institutional Student Employment Program [ISEP]. Employment is administered through the Payroll Office.

FWS is a need-based work program. Students who demonstrate need and are awarded FWS funds as part of their financial aid award package are eligible to be employed through FWS. ISEP is not a need-based program and students may seek employment through ISEP regardless of whether or not they have completed the application process for financial aid. Under both programs, FWS and ISEP, students are paid biweekly for hours actually worked.

A list of available FWS and ISEP positions can be found on the Student Employment web site.

Federal government regulations require that individuals must provide certain original forms of identification before beginning work. Once a student has found a job, instructions for completing the I-9 and other required forms can be found on the Student Employment web site.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

University Ministries

Staff

- Matt Kerlin, Minister to the University
- April Robinson, Minister to Students for Campus and Community Involvement
- Renee Pitts, Minister to Students for Global Involvement
- Brian Pitts, Minister to Students for Spiritual Formation

Growing in religious faith is one of the most significant experiences of college life. During their time at Samford, students have the opportunity to develop a mature faith of their own, building on the beliefs they bring with them. This development of adult faith is stimulated at Samford in a number of ways.

University Ministries exists to encourage and equip individuals to deepen spiritual maturity, sharpen theological integrity, clarify vocational identity and embrace missional responsibility. Through worship, spiritual formation and service, University Ministries strives to engage heart, soul, mind and strength in the pursuit of knowing God and making him known.

Convocation

Convocation programs for faculty, staff and students are held regularly throughout the fall and spring semesters. A key component of the convocation program is University Chapel, which is held each Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. in Reid Chapel.

The purpose of convocation is to nurture students in faith, learning and values from a distinctly Christian perspective. Students are encouraged to engage Christian faith within a variety of learning experiences.

Convocation nurtures students on an individual level, a corporate level and a confessional level. First, convocation provides activities that challenge individuals to grow toward Christian maturity. Second, convocation encourages individuals to participate in the Christian identity of the university. Third, convocation is a formal means by which the university can be what it says it is: a community committed to faith, learning and values rooted in a Christian worldview.

Students are required to earn 60 convocation credits to receive the bachelor's degree. Fifteen convocation credits must be earned in each of the following categories: Christian faith development, academic lecture, personal and professional growth, and culture and the arts. Students may receive up to 15 convocation credits for faith-based service and substitute these credits for a portion of the requirements in other categories. To record students' attendance at on-campus convocation programs, IDs will be scanned at the conclusion of each event. Students must have a valid ID to receive convocation credit. The number of convocation credits required for transfer students is prorated. For more information, contact University Ministries or the Office of Student Records.

Freshman Ministries: Small groups and special events provide opportunities to build relationships and spiritual support during the first semester of transition into the college lifestyle.

Imago Dei Groups: These groups provide a context in which women can explore what it means to be "created in the image of God." Using the Bible and other sources from the media, psychology and cultural studies, this group examines the messages women receive and how those messages affect body image, role expectations and what it means to be a Christian.

Global Involvement

Global Christian Fellowship: Students interested in missions, whether short-term or vocational, meet monthly to host special guests who address a variety of mission-related topics.

Global Missions Emphasis: This week is set aside to educate and inspire students in the area of global missions. University Ministries hopes to raise awareness about what God is doing around the world and how students can become involved in missions, both during and after their college experience.

Missionary in Residence: Missionaries on furlough spend a year on campus focusing on ministry with missionary kids [MK's] and international students.

Summer Missions: Summer missions provide the opportunity for students to expand their worldview, put their faith into practice and learn something new about themselves.

Perry County Initiative: Students, faculty and staff invest in the people and organizations of Perry County in pursuit of community and justice.

Spring Break Missions: Spend Spring Break ministering to children, planting churches, painting houses, working at a food bank or feeding the homeless. Whatever the details of the trip, the purpose is always to share the love of Christ.

Ville Crew: Inner-city children wait expectantly every Saturday morning for this group of students who come to play with them and to share the love of Christ through music, Bible stories and one-on-one relationships.

Young Life: Young Life focuses on sharing Christ with adolescents and helping them to grow in their faith.

Social Justice

Alabama Citizens for Constitutional Reform [ACCR]: Pursue a better future for the state through efforts to get a new state constitution drafted.

International Justice Mission [IJM]: IJM campus chapters empower students to support the fight against injustice through education, prayer and fund-raising.

Restoring Eden: Students promote stewardship of creation by raising awareness of environmental issues and by rallying efforts for recycling on campus. All are called to be good stewards of God's creation, and this group leads by example.

Leadership

Council: This team of students organizes and facilitates the various areas of ministry within the University Ministries structure. Application for this leadership team is held during spring semester.

Committees: Students may volunteer to serve in any area of University Ministries. Go to www.samford.edu/um for details on how to get involved.

RESIDENCE LIFE

The Department of Residence Life serves the Samford community by providing high-quality and safe residential facilities while fostering the resident's educational, personal, social, and spiritual development within a Christian environment. Residence Life is a unit of the university's Operations and Planning Division. Fulfilling the mission is reached through provision, maintenance and operation of comfortable, attractive and safe residence facilities; through provision of a trained, competent professional staff committed to the Christian faith; and through provision of organized programs and activities, and personal services for residents. The department also seeks to provide opportunities that continuously nurture a resident's total personality and self-esteem, resulting in achievement of each individual's highest potential.

Operating Dates

Residence halls are open and operated when school is in session. They are not available as student housing on a year-round basis and are closed over designated holiday periods. Students may leave personal belongings in their rooms, but the rooms may not be occupied over holiday breaks. Samford is not responsible for any loss or damage to personal property left in rooms. Students may not have access to their rooms in advance of the published opening dates and must vacate their rooms by published closing dates. All personal belongings must be removed from the student's room at the end of the spring term, or when the student officially vacates the room. The university does not have facilities to provide storage for students' personal property between terms or over the summer.

Such students should advise their residence life coordinator of their need in writing and must vacate their room no later than the final closing dates listed above.

Department Offices and Staff

The Office of Residence Life maintains an office in each of the three areas of campus housing. Each office is responsible for meeting the ongoing, everyday needs of residents in their area. Residence Life Coordinators [RLCs], professional members of the department staff who live in each area, maintain offices in these locations. They are responsible for all programs and activities, procurement of services of other departments when required, approval and coordination of all moves within and to or from their area after a term has begun, and for assisting with personal concerns and roommate conflicts. Area offices are located in Evergreen Hall for Beeson Woods, in Vail Hall for Central Campus and in Mountainview Hall for West Campus.

The main offices of residence life are in 102 and 106 University Center. These offices are responsible for coordination of all services of the department, including the initial assignment of housing for each academic year. The office also administers the meal plans required by university policy for all resident students.

The department staff consists of the following people:

The Director of Residence Life and University Services is the department head and is a member of the staff of the Vice President for Operations and Planning.

The Assistant Director of Residence Life reports to the Director of Residence Life and University Services, and is responsible for programming, staff selection and department assessment.

The Housing and Business Operations Coordinator reports to the Director of Residence Life and University Services, and is responsible for administering all housing assignments and meal plans for resident students.

The Facilities and Safety Coordinator reports to the Director of Residence Life and University Services, and is responsible for residence life maintenance and safety.

Residence Life Coordinators [RLCs] are professional, live-in staff responsible for the total operation of a particular area of campus housing. RLCs are full-time professional staff members working in the Division of Operations and Planning.

Residence Managers [RMs] are graduate students who live in the residence halls or suites and are responsible for coordinating and overseeing the day-to-day functions associated with a particular residential area.

Senior Resident Assistants [SRAs] are undergraduate, senior-class students who live on a particular hall or housing area, responsible for the day-to-day functions of the RAs.

Resident Assistants [RAs] are the first point of contact for resident students. These are undergraduate students who live on the halls in close proximity to residents.

Living on Campus

Residence halls are more than just a place to live. They are classrooms for learning human relations skills and social centers for the residents in each facility. Students living on campus become residents of a small neighborhood within each facility, and members of the larger community of all those who live on campus. As in every such community, policies and procedures are necessary to protect the rights of individuals and the welfare of the community at large. In keeping with the Christian purpose of the university, they also reflect the values and standards of conduct expected of residents. Residence Life policies and procedures are found in the Residence Hall Housing Agreement, University Catalog, Student Handbook web site, residence life web site and other material distributed periodically.

At all times, residents are expected to use good judgment and show respect for the rights and needs of others in the care and use of student housing and facilities. The purpose and intent of policies should be observed rather than just the letter of the law.

Residents should consider purchasing personal liability insurance to cover their belongings in residence halls. The university does not assume any responsibility for personal items brought into residence halls. Items damaged in the buildings due to, but not limited to the following: maintenance, inclement weather, theft, water or fire are not covered by university insurance.

Personal Property Insurance

Students have a large investment in personal property, such as textbooks, desktop and laptop computers, televisions, CDs, DVDs, CD and DVD players, radios, cell phones, cameras, PDAs, calculators, refrigerators and clothing. Each year, college students lose millions of dollars' worth of personal property through theft, vandalism, water or fire, and a college or university is not liable for these losses.

All students, especially those who live in residence halls, should insure their personal property through a private insurance policy. Samford has established an insurance program through National Student Services, Inc., which provides personal property insurance for students at more than 1,000 colleges and universities. For more information on student personal property insurance, go to www.nssinc.com or pick up a brochure at the Office of Residence Life in 106 University Center.

Community Standards Council

The mission of the Community Standards Council [CSC] is to help foster and maintain a peaceful and purposeful community within the residence halls. This goal includes educating students in responsibilities and opportunities for community living. The CSC monitors rule infractions stipulated by the Residence Life Housing Agreement and the Student Handbook Web site. A values violation is defined by the Code of Values outlined in the Samford University Student Handbook Web site. Value violations will be sent to the Values Advocate, and a residence life violation will be sent to the CSC for review. A value violation may be referred to the CSC at the request of the Values Advocate.

The CSC consists of seven students (three of whom are resident assistants) selected by a committee. One residence life professional staff member serves as the CSC adviser. The CSC adviser is a nonvoting member; but if the CSC is unable to hear a case, then the CSC adviser will hear the incident.

Sanctions Associated with the Community Standards Council

- Reprimand: An oral or written warning may be issued by itself or as part of an overall decision. It specifies that more severe disciplinary action will occur should the student be involved in further disciplinary situations.
- Counseling session: The student may be required to meet for a minimum number of hours with a member of the University Counseling staff, the Director of Residence Life, a Residence Life Educator and/or a Residence Manager.
- Community service: A student may be required to complete a specified number of hours of community service instead of other sanctions. The type of community service must be approved by the community standards adviser.
- Monetary fine: A monetary fine may be assessed to a student by the Community Standards Council. Monetary fines, in some cases, can be replaced by a specified number of hours of community service.
- Restitution: Compensation for damage caused to university or personal property. This is not a fine, but rather a repayment for property destroyed or damaged.
- Restriction of visitation privileges: This can be levied against an individual, a room or a suite. The details of the restriction should be specified, as well as how long it is in effect.
- Reassignment to another residence hall: If, in the opinion of the Community Standards Council, a student might benefit from living in another residence hall, the student can be moved. However, staff members in the Office of Residence Life shall select the residence hall to which the student may be reassigned.
- Referral to the Values Advocate: This sanction is usually recommended for repeat offenders or someone who displays behavior that might affect the safety of campus residents. Offenders who accumulate seven or more points on the CSC point system are automatically referred to the Values Advocate.

Community Standards Council Point System

Specific behaviors will be assessed points ranging from one to seven, with seven being the highest number of points assessed for one behavior. Upon accumulating seven or more points, the student will be required to appear before the Values Advocate. The second incident for the same violation can automatically constitute a hearing with the Values Advocate.

University Policies

Undergraduate Residence Requirement

The university seeks to foster a spirit of community, benefiting from the full participation of each campus citizen. The student and the community are best served when the student is available to be involved in campus activities. Experience confirms that students who reside on campus are more likely to be fully engaged in their educational experiences, more likely to establish strong interpersonal relationships, and more likely to learn from group and interpersonal interaction. To maximize the totality of the undergraduate experience, it is recommended that students live on campus until the completion of the bachelor's degree. Unmarried undergraduate day students are required to live on campus for four academic terms (fall and spring terms) unless they live at home with a parent or guardian.

Students who have lived on campus for four academic terms (fall and spring terms), who are beginning their fifth semester, who have a minimum of 2.5 cumulative grade point average, and who are in good standing with the university, may petition the Office of Residence Life for permission to reside off campus.

Students with senior status may live off campus without petition. Undergraduate students at least 22 years of age and graduate students are assigned university housing on a space-available basis after undergraduates are assigned.

During the summer and Jan terms, housing is limited to students enrolled at Samford University during the term, or to students required to be in residence to participate in university-approved activities. During fall and spring semesters, housing is limited to full-time students or to part-time students with special needs. On-campus housing is not available to students over 24 years of age without permission from the Vice President for Operations and Planning.

Residence Hall Housing Agreement

All residents must sign a Residence Hall Housing Agreement before they occupy campus housing. This agreement outlines all the policies and terms that govern campus housing. Students will complete this agreement prior to their occupancy in the residence hall. Students will be notified of any and all changes in the agreement that may occur after they have signed their forms and are responsible for all terms currently applicable.

Academic Year Lease Agreement

When a student is assigned a room, the housing agreement represents a lease for the academic year. The university commits to provide a room, and the student commits to reside on campus through the following spring term unless the student graduates, withdraws from the university or gets married. Students may not move off campus for any other reasons between fall and spring terms. A substantial penalty is imposed if residents break their lease agreement. (The maximum penalty is $500.)

The lease is not for a specific room, but a commitment to live on campus. Consistent with current residence life policy and procedure, students may change rooms at designated times and with prior approval of a Residence Life Coordinator. However, unauthorized moves will result in a substantial penalty. Residents may be required to change rooms if it is determined by the Office of Residence Life to be necessary and in the best interest of the student or the university.

Private Room Fee and Consolidation Policy

Based on availability and with the approval of the Office of Residence Life, a student may request and occupy a double room as a single by payment of 150 percent of the rate for that room. The student will be guaranteed single occupancy only by the payment of this private room fee. Once approved, the private room fee will apply to every term remaining in the current academic year. It may be deleted only if a roommate is actually assigned.

Residents who do not have a roommate at the start of the fall or spring term and who have not requested a private room will be required to consolidate with another resident who also does not have a roommate. The Office of Residence Life will make available lists of other students in rooms without a roommate to assist in this process. In the fourth week of classes, the private room fee will be charged to all residents remaining in a double room as a single.

Should a resident lose his/her roommate after the fourth week of classes, he/she will be allowed to remain in the room as a single for the remainder of that term only without paying the private room fee. The vacant space remains available to the Office of Residence Life for assignment to any student needing housing at any time, and the resident may not reject any roommate assigned. The resident may be required to move to another room where a single vacancy exists at any time the Office of Residence Life has need for the current room as a double vacancy. Any student occupying a double room as a single, for any reason, will be charged the private room fee unless otherwise determined by the Director of Residence Life.

Residence Hall Solicitation Policy for Off-Campus Groups

The mission of residence life is to provide a quality living/learning environment, thereby nurturing residents' educational pursuits. Considerable effort is made to maintain privacy and comfort in the residents' personal rooms. To create a nurturing environment in which residents are free from disruptions, unwanted information, intrusions, materials and services, and for security reasons, any type of soliciting or canvassing is prohibited in university residence halls.

Solicitation is defined as a request made by any person to another person, including, but not limited to, door-to-door or individual sales, fund-raising, distribution, commercial activity, or any other activity that intends to market products, services, or political or religious beliefs. A resident who notices any form of solicitation in the residence halls should immediately notify the area office.

A resident may invite a same-sex representative of a group, organization or business to their rooms, provided the resident makes the initial contact by express invitation and provided the resident's roommate gives permission for the resident to extend such an invitation. It is preferable, however, that these meetings take place in a public area rather than in a residence hall room. The use of residence hall lounges, the Food Court and the University Center is recommended.

Advertisements for an off-campus individual, group, organization or business may be posted on a bulletin board in each residence hall with approval from the residence manager for that facility. To be considered by the residence manager, any advertisement or notice must have a clear statement of the local sponsoring entity. Only one advertisement per individual, group, organization or business may be posted in each residence hall. Advertisements will be posted for a maximum of two weeks and will not be returned. Information for distribution must be taken to the area office and, if approved by the Residence Life Coordinator, will be kept there for a limited time for interested students to pick up.

From time to time, there may be outside vendors whose products or services are deemed to be a service to students (i.e., daily newspaper delivery) that would not be in competition with any university agent, group or organization. Such vendors should contact the Residence Life Coordinator.

Visitation Policy

Samford University's visitation policy does not allow members of the opposite sex to visit each other in a student's room or other nonpublic areas of residence halls or apartments except at designated times. Special days and hours are designated each term in which inter-residence hall visitation is permitted. Students participating in the visitation period must sign their guest in and out in the area office. While a guest is in the room, the door must be propped open a minimum of six inches. All guests must be accompanied by their host at all times during the visitation period.

The Campus Community

Door-to-door personal solicitation will not be allowed under any circumstances. However, if an on-campus individual, group or organization wishes to present information regarding a product or service that is deemed to be a service or of educational benefit to students, the Director of Residence Life should be contacted concerning the possibility of marketing/selling that product, service or program within the residence halls.

On-campus individuals, groups or organizations wishing to distribute materials or post advertisements in residence halls must obtain approval from the residence manager for each individual residence hall.

Facility Services

Facility Services is responsible for the maintenance and custodial care of all facilities on campus, including all public areas of every residence hall on campus. Resident students are responsible for the cleaning and care of their own rooms, private and semiprivate bathrooms, and sitting areas in suites or apartment units. When students have a maintenance or repair need, they may request help from facility services by contacting their resident assistant or their area office, or by calling facility services directly in case of a critical or emergency need at (205)726-2711.

Residents are responsible for their personal belongings, and neither the university nor the facility services contractor assumes responsibility for personal belongings lost or damaged due to a maintenance issue.

STUDENTS RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Students are expected to know regulations and policies found in the current catalog and Student Handbook Web site. Keeping abreast of the school calendar, critical deadlines and all university mail received in one's university mailbox and/or electronic mail is also the student's responsibility.

Student Identification

Each student is required to have a current student ID card-a picture identification card issued by Samford University. The card is issued the first semester students are enrolled and is automatically validated each semester thereafter. A replacement card can be issued in the Office of Public Safety. Students must show their ID cards upon the request of a faculty member, staff member, administrative official or Public Safety or Transportation officer.

E-mail as a Means of Official Communication

E-mail is a means of official communication at Samford University, and some communication will be sent only via e-mail. All students, faculty and staff are assigned a Samford e-mail account with an address of the form username@samford.edu. Individuals are responsible for reading mail sent to these accounts and are expected to check their accounts regularly. Individuals are responsible for maintaining their accounts through routine deletion of old mail, etc. to ensure that the accounts always have sufficient space to allow for the delivery of new mail. Samford is not responsible for mail that does not reach recipients when lack of attention to a recipient mailbox prevents message delivery. While Samford may allow the use of other e-mail accounts for some purposes, official communication will be sent only to the samford.edu account. Individuals who choose to automatically forward samford.edu mail to another e-mail account (e.g. AOL, Hotmail, etc.) do so at their own risk and are responsible to assure that all mail is properly forwarded. Samford University takes no responsibility for e-mail delivery beyond the assigned samford.edu account.

Behavioral Expectations

A committee of faculty, staff and students was formed to identify the values that provide a foundation for student behavior expectations within the Samford community. The Christian faith is a primary source for most of these values. The committee also identified specific inappropriate behaviors that would violate these values. Finally, it recommended the minimum sanction students would receive whenever they are responsible for a value violation. The results of the efforts of the committee provide students with a clear understanding of what is expected of a contributing member of the community at Samford University. All who work, study and learn at Samford do so voluntarily. As is the case with all communities, reasonable expectations (rules and regulations) are identified that contribute to the common good of the community. Being a contributing member of a community requires that selfish individualism often must give way to what is best for a caring, orderly and just community.

The information that follows is intended to communicate values, expectations, rights and responsibilities of students who voluntarily join the Samford community.

Code of Values

Statement of Values Preamble

We as the Samford University community affirm the value of a peaceful and purposeful community, founded on the moral and ethical integrity of students, staff and faculty. We commit ourselves to the Christian values on which Samford University was founded. We expect that our commitment to mutual responsibility and a spirit of cooperation will create a community that is orderly, caring and just.

The purpose of this statement is to affirm those basic principles that underlie the rights and responsibilities of the university community.

Worth of the Individual

We value the intrinsic worth of every individual in the community. Our respect for other individuals includes an appreciation of cultural backgrounds different from our own, an understanding of different attitudes and opinions, and an awareness of the consequences of our actions on the broader community. Those values can be violated by behaviors such as harassment, hazing, sexual misconduct and assault.

Self-Discipline

We value personal responsibility and recognize the individual's need for physical, intellectual, spiritual, social and emotional wholeness. We value the full development of every student in terms of a confident and constructive self-image, of a commitment to self-discipline, and of a responsible self-expression. Gambling; disorderly conduct; possessing, consuming or distributing alcohol; intoxication; and possessing, using and distributing illegal drugs are examples of behaviors that violate the value of self-discipline.

Integrity

We value a campus community that encourages personal growth and academic development in an atmosphere of positive Christian influence. We affirm the necessity of academic standards of conduct that allow students and faculty to live and study together. We value the fair and efficient administration of these standards of conduct. These values can be violated by academic dishonesty, fraud and dishonesty.

Respect for Property and the Environment

We value the rights and privileges of owning and using property, both personal and university, and the benefits of preservation and maintenance of property and of our natural resources. In our stewardship of property, we recognize the accountability of our actions to the future of the Samford University community. Stealing or being in the possession of stolen or lost property, vandalism, setting a fire and arson, tampering with fire and safety equipment, possessing firearms or weapons on campus, possessing or using fireworks on campus, unauthorized entry, and stealing or unauthorized use or possession of money or other negotiable instruments are examples of behaviors that violate this value.

Respect for Community Authority

We value our privileges and responsibilities as members of the university community and as citizens of the community beyond the campus. We value the community standards of conduct expressed in our system of laws and value the fair administration of those laws, including university, municipal, state and federal laws. These values are violated by aiding, abetting or conspiring to engage in value violations; violating residence-hall visitation guidelines; reckless behavior; lewd and indecent conduct; insubordination; unauthorized and/or unruly demonstrations; driving while impaired; habitually offending motor vehicle rules and regulations; creating a nuisance by talking, yelling, singing or playing a musical instrument, electronic device, etc., loudly enough to disturb members of the university community; and committing a city, state or federal crime.

Sanctions for Inappropriate Behavior

A student who engages in inappropriate behavior is subject to one or a combination of more than one of the following sanctions:

Reprimand: An official warning in writing that continuation or repetition of inappropriate behavior may result in a more severe sanction.

Fines: A student or organization may be expected to pay a reasonable sum of money as a sanction. The fine will be placed on the student's account or assessed to the organization.

Community Service: A student or organization is required to render a designated number of hours of specified service to the university or the community.

Loss of Privilege: A student or organization is prohibited from participation in certain co-curricular activities.

Restitution: A student or organization is required to reimburse or otherwise compensate another for damage or loss of property resulting from a student's misconduct.

Probation: A student or organization receives a formal written warning that conduct is in violation of university policies and status as a student or an organization is in jeopardy. The continued enrollment of the student or active status of an organization depends on the maintenance of satisfactory citizenship during the period of probation. The continuation of an organization to maintain a presence on campus will depend on all members engaging in appropriate behavior during the probation period.

Residence Hall Suspension: A student is excluded from living in university residence halls for a stated period of time, during which the student's presence in any Samford housing facility is prohibited without permission from the University Values Advocate.

University Suspension: A student's status at the university is terminated for not less than the remainder of the semester, during which time the student's presence on the Samford University campus is prohibited without permission of the University Values Advocate. All campus privileges are revoked during the suspension period.

An organization's suspension will be determined by the nature of the offense. In collaboration with the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management, the Director of Greek Life, the Assistant Dean for Student Services and Values Advocate, and/or the Assistant Dean for Campus Life, the hearing agent will determine the duration of the organization's suspension period.

Expulsion: A student's or an organization's status at the university is terminated permanently or for an indefinite period of time. All campus privileges are revoked.

Organizational Behavior: Organizations are expected to comply with the stated values of the university. Organizational behavior that violates a stated value may cause the organization to be cited for a Values Violation. Sanctions that may be placed on an organization include, but are not limited to: reprimand, fine(s), community service, loss of privilege, restitution, probation, suspension, and expulsion. An organization believed to be in violation of a university value will be given an opportunity to present its side of the situation before a decision is rendered. The hearing and sanctioning will be administered by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management, the Assistant Dean for Campus Life, the Assistant Dean for Student Services and Values Advocate or the Values Council.

Miscellaneous

Alcoholic Beverage Containers: Possessing, consuming or distributing alcoholic beverages is a university value violation. Containers (bottles or cans) that have contained or are designed to contain alcoholic beverages or the presence of such containers on campus (including residence halls) also constitute a value violation.

Behavior of Guests: A Samford student is responsible for informing guests of university values. Whenever a guest violates a value, the Samford student will be charged with aiding, abetting or conspiring with the guest to violate the value.

Disciplinary Records: A disciplinary record is maintained for three years whenever a student is found to have committed inappropriate behavior. The three-year period begins on the date a sanction goes into effect.

Graduation Clearance: Students who have a value violation pending or have not completed the sanctions given by the Values Advocate or a Values Council will not be allowed to participate in graduation activities, including commencement exercises.

Interim Suspension: Whenever there is evidence to support the belief that a student's behavior on or off campus is a clear and present threat to the health, safety and welfare of faculty, staff, students, guests, or self, the student may be suspended until a campus hearing can be arranged. A student on interim suspension will be restricted from the campus or from a particular program, activity or building.

Notification of Parents: Whenever a student is found to have committed a value violation and the sanction is loss of privilege, probation, residence hall suspension, university suspension or expulsion, parents of dependent students are automatically notified by mail. A copy of the letter sent to the student notifying the student of the sanction is sent to parents.

Off-Campus Conduct: A student who is charged or convicted of a crime off campus will not automatically be charged with a Samford University value violation unless the offense is of a nature that the student is considered to be a threat to the health, safety and welfare of the faculty, staff and students. Whenever that occurs, the student will be required to attend a hearing before either the University Values Advocate or the Values Council to offer an explanation as to why the student is not a threat to the health, safety and welfare of the campus community. If a reasonable explanation is not offered, the student will be assessed a sanction ranging from a reprimand to university expulsion. A sanction may be appealed to the Appeal Council.

Raffles: A raffle is a form of lottery, which is a form of gambling. Under Alabama state law, gambling, including raffles, is illegal. For more information, download www.ago.alabama.gov/oldopinions/8900168.pdf. Gambling is also a value violation.

A contest, competition or game in which the outcome is determined by skill as opposed to chance is legal. For example, a person could pay $1 to try to calculate the number of marbles in a gallon container. The person coming closest to the total number without going over the actual number could win a significant prize. A basketball shooting contest in which the winner receives a prize is not illegal.

Organizations are advised to use discretion in fund-raising endeavors and must avoid illegal activities.

Scholarship Provider Notification: Samford University provides considerable financial resources to students who have the capacity to contribute to the life and values of the campus community and to benefit from educational experiences offered by the university. If a student receiving institutional aid (e.g., academic, leadership, athletic, ministerial) is found to have committed a value violation and the sanction is loss of privilege, probation, residence hall suspension, university suspension or expulsion, the person and/or department head responsible for recommending the aid award to the student will be notified.

School-Related Activity: Students and organizations are subject to Samford's Codes of Values while participating in any Samford-sponsored program, activity or event. The term "school-related activity" includes, but is not limited to, any academic, athletic, extracurricular, social, administrative, work-related or other activity that takes place on or off campus and is sponsored by any Samford University organization.

Student Leader Conduct: Samford University offers numerous opportunities for students to be actively engaged in leadership roles within the university community. These leadership roles include, but are not limited to: officers in campus organizations, Resident Assistants, Connections Leaders, Orientation Leaders, Ambassadors, Student Recruitment Team, student-athletes, University Fellows, Beeson and Presidential Scholars.

Students entrusted with a leadership position on campus should be familiar with the Samford Code of Values and are expected to demonstrate behavior consistent with the Code of Values. Any student leader exhibiting behavior inconsistent with the Code of Values may be subject to removal from their leadership position and adjustment of any Samford financial assistance accompanying the position.

Use of Electronic Devices: Student use of cell phones, messaging devices and other electronic devices (for example, recording devices, music players, PDAs, computers) is prohibited in classes unless specifically permitted by the instructor, and at public events (for example, concerts, convocations, theatre productions, lectures) unless specifically permitted by the event sponsor.

Students Rights

A student, or an organization, that has been charged with a values violation and alleged to be involved in inappropriate behavior will be granted these rights to assure fundamental fairness in the judicial process:

Notice: To be informed of the specific values violation and inappropriate behavior in which the student is suspected of involvement.

Procedures: To be informed orally or in writing of the judicial process.

Hearing: To have an opportunity to be heard in person before a decision is made.

Evidence: To know the nature of the information related to the alleged violation and be able to challenge the information in question, in front of his accusers, unless there are extenuating circumstances which by doing so might jeopardize the safety or well-being of another.

Witnesses: To be able to offer a defense by having material and/or character witnesses speak on one's behalf. It is the accused student's responsibility to arrange for witnesses to attend a hearing. The Values Advocate should be notified in advance of any witnesses who will be attending.

Adviser: To have a Samford University faculty, staff or student attend the hearing in the role of a friend, adviser or counselor. Non-university personnel are not allowed in disciplinary hearings.

Written decision: To have a written response reporting the results of the hearing.

Appeal: To appeal a decision of the Values Advocate or Values Council, except when admitting responsibility for committing a violation and a minimum sanction is given.

The Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management has the right to appeal a decision of the Values Advocate, the Values Council or the Appeal Council to the president of the university if he or she feels a decision undermines the integrity of the judicial process.

Values Violation Process

The purpose of the values violation process is to give fundamental fairness to a student or an organization that has possibly violated a Samford University Code of Values. Fundamental fairness means a student or an organization is given an opportunity to present what took place at an event/activity and question the evidence that led to a belief a values violation occurred. The opportunity is given to the student or organization before a decision is made about the violation and a sanction imposed.

Any student, faculty, staff, parent or guest must present a written report of the facts regarding the alleged violation before the value violation process formally begins. Written reports are referred to the Assistant Dean for Student Services and Values Advocate. When the Values Advocate believes there is substantial evidence to support the alleged violation, the Values Advocate arranges a meeting with the student. At the discretion of the Values Advocate, some incidents may be handled by the Residence Life Community Standards Council.

The student or organization will receive notification of the alleged violation along with evidence that supports the value violation. Within 48 hours, the student must return a Value Violation Response Form to the University Values Advocate indicating whether or not the student admits committing the value violation. Failure to respond to a values notification may result in additional sanctions.

If the student or organization admits to committing a values violation, the student or organization's representative will meet with the University Values Advocate to receive a sanction, guidance and counseling. If the student does not admit a value has been violated, the University Values Advocate has the option of choosing to conduct an administrative hearing or referring the incident to the Values Council for a more formal hearing. The University Values Advocate will inform the student or organization's representative of which option is chosen and the process and procedure to be followed. Regardless of the option chosen, the student or organization will have the opportunity to be heard.

Minimum sanctions for most value violations have been established. However, in some instances, if the hearing agent deems a more rigorous sanction is in order, harsher penalties can be imposed. A student or organization may appeal a decision and sanction of the University Values Advocate or the Values Council within 48 hours of the notification of outcome and sanctions being received or sent. The only exception is if a student has admitted committing a value violation and a minimum sanction has been assessed. The reason(s) a student or organization may appeal a decision is (are): 1) procedures were not followed; 2) evidence did not justify the results; 3) sanction was not consistent with the nature of the violation; and/or 4) there is new evidence (not available or withheld at the hearing).

A student or organization that wishes to appeal a decision initiates the process in the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management. The Appeal Council has the option of hearing or not hearing the appeal. Should the Appeal Council refuse to hear the appeal, the original decision and sanction will be implemented.

The Appeal Council may, after hearing an appeal, 1) affirm the original decision and sanctions; 2) affirm the original decision and modify the sanctions; or 3) reverse the decision. A decision of the Appeals Council is final unless the president of the university requests a review.

Research Activities Policy

Any individual student or student organization desiring to conduct a research project involving human subjects is required to obtain approval of the study from the Samford University Institutional Review Board for Human Subjects. Full explanation of procedures to be implemented as well as necessary forms are available online at <http://www.samford.edu/IRB>. Any student planning to conduct research involving human subjects should meet with a faculty adviser as soon as possible so that there will be no delay in obtaining approval and meeting course requirement deadlines.

Family and Educational Rights and Privacy Act

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act [FERPA] is a federal law designed to protect the privacy of a student's education records. The rights of the FERPA heretofore assigned to parents are now transferred to their college students. These rights are:

- Eligible students have the right to inspect and review all their education records maintained by the school. The student must contact the University Registrar and Registrar office to make an appointment to view their academic record.
- Eligible students have the right to request that a school correct records believed to be inaccurate or misleading. If the school refuses to change the records, the eligible student then has the right to a formal hearing. After the hearing, if the school still refuses the correction, the eligible student has the right to place a statement in the records commenting on the contested information in the records.
- Generally, Samford University must have written permission from the eligible student before releasing any information from a student's record. However, the law allows schools to disclose records, without consent, to the following parties:
 - School employees who have a need to know
 - Other schools to which a student is transferring
 - Parents when a student over 18 is still dependent
 - Certain government officials in order to carry out lawful functions
 - Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student
 - Organizations doing certain studies for the school
 - Accrediting organizations
 - Individuals who have obtained court orders or subpoenas
 - Persons who need to know in cases of health and safety emergencies
 - State and local authorities to whom disclosure is required by state laws adopted before November 19, 1974

Schools may also disclose, without consent, “directory type” information, such as a student’s name, address and telephone number. Samford University has designated the following as directory information: student name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, date and place of birth, enrollment status, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, honors, degrees and awards received, most recent previous school attended, and photograph. An eligible student who does not wish for this information to be released without prior written consent must notify in writing the Office of the University Registrar and Registrar by the last day to drop/add without financial penalty in a semester or term.

Equal Opportunity

Samford University complies with applicable laws prohibiting discrimination, including applicable provisions of and amendments to Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Executive Order 11246, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs or services.

Inquiries and concerns regarding this policy may be directed to the vice president for business affairs or general counsel, Office of Business Affairs, 200 Samford Hall, Birmingham, AL 35229, (205) 726-2811. This notice is available in alternative formats upon request.

Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act

In accordance with the Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act [EADA], all students have the right to request a copy of the Report on Athletic Program Participation Rates and Financial Support Data. These requests should be submitted to the Director of Athletics.

Drug and Alcohol Policy

To comply with the requirements of the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, 20 U.S.C., Section 1145q, and the Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988, 41 U.S.C., Section 701, et. seq, Samford University hereby adopts the following Drug and Alcohol Policy.

Policy

Samford University seeks to foster the development of Christian character, scholastic attainment and a sense of personal responsibility. To fulfill this purpose and to protect and promote the health and welfare of its faculty, staff and students, Samford University is committed to maintaining a drug- and alcohol-free campus. To this end, Samford University is committed to providing drug and alcohol education, information and assistance to its faculty, staff and students. It is the policy of Samford University that the use of illicit drugs or alcohol by faculty, staff or students on campus, or in connection with or affecting any school-related activity, is strictly prohibited. Violations of this policy will result in the imposition of disciplinary sanctions up to and including termination of faculty and staff, and expulsion of students.

Standards of Conduct

- The use, consumption or possession of alcoholic beverages and the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of illicit drugs by any faculty member, staff member, student or any other individual on campus, or off campus in connection with or affecting any school-related activity, is strictly prohibited.
- The term “staff” includes all non-faculty personnel employed by Samford University, including student employees under college work-study programs and other institutional programs of student employment.
- The term “illicit drugs” includes any controlled substances listed in 21 U.S.C., Section 812 and other federal regulations, any controlled substances listed in Schedules I-V in Ala Code Section 20-2-22 through Section 20-2-32, and any “legal drugs” which are not prescribed by a licensed physician.
- The term “school-related activity” includes, but is not limited to, any academic, athletic, extracurricular, social, administrative, work-related or other activity that takes place on the campus of Samford University, or on any premises owned by Samford University, or which takes place off campus and is sponsored by any Samford University organization.
- Any faculty member, staff member or student violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary procedures, up to and including termination or expulsion, and may be required to participate in a drug and/or alcohol abuse, assistance or rehabilitation program approved for such purposes by a federal, state or local health, law enforcement or other appropriate agency.
- Samford University does not differentiate between drug users and drug pushers or dealers. Any faculty member, staff member or student who gives or in any way transfers drugs to another person, or sells or manufactures drugs on campus or off campus in connection with or affecting any school-related activity, is subject to discipline.
- In addition to subjecting faculty members, staff members and students to its internal disciplinary procedures, Samford University may refer those individuals who violate federal, state or local illicit drug and alcohol laws to the appropriate federal, state or local law enforcement agencies for prosecution.

Search Policy

Samford University respects a student’s right to privacy and guards against arbitrary and unnecessary intrusion. If there is probable and reasonable cause to believe that health, safety or welfare activities are taking place that are detrimental to the university community, or if there is probable and reasonable cause to believe that contraband is present or activities are occurring that would constitute a value violation and inappropriate behavior, the university will use the following procedures in a search.

Searches must be approved in writing using a Samford University authorization form, except when verbal permission to search is given by the occupant of the room being searched. Only the Director of Public Safety or a supervisor, the Director of Residence Life, a Residence Life Coordinator, a Residence Manager, the Assistant Dean for Student Services and Values Advocate, the Assistant Dean for Campus Life, the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management, or the Vice President for Operations and Planning can authorize a search. A search will be conducted by at least two university employees, one or more of whom may be resident assistants. Reasonable effort will be made to make the search in the presence of an occupant of the room or the person who registered the vehicle on campus. In situations where it is deemed that a delay to obtain authorization constitutes a danger to individuals or property, or destruction or disposal of contraband, the room or vehicle will be entered and searched without authorization. Searches can be conducted without authorization when an official is in pursuit, the student gives permission or contraband is in plain view.

A list of objects/items taken as the result of a search will be signed by all individuals involved in the search and witnesses. A copy of the list will be left with an occupant of the room; or in the event no occupant was present during the search, a copy will be left in the room. Any occupant present during the search will be asked to sign the authorization form with a listing of objects/items being removed, not as an admission of guilt, but to confirm the items taken.

Inclusive Language

Language - how it is used and what it implies - plays a crucial role in Samford University's mission to nurture persons. Because verbal constructions create realities, inclusive language can uphold or affirm those whom the university seeks to nurture, while exclusive language can damage or defeat them. Samford University therefore actively seeks a discourse in its university community that supports the equal dignity and participation of men and women; the university seeks to avoid verbal constructions that diminish the equal dignity of all individuals. It is an affirmative—and affirming—part of Samford University's mission to educate students, staff and faculty in the creation of a community of equality and respect through language.

Title IX Sexual Misconduct Policy

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 states: “No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance”. Sexual violence is a form of sexual harassment prohibited by Title IX. In addition to the 1972 definition of discrimination on the basis of sex, Federal legislation of 2001 and 2006 identify sexual assault and sexual harassment as policy violations which are to be specifically dealt with by universities receiving any Federal funding.

Samford University complies with applicable laws prohibiting discrimination, including applicable provisions of and amendments to Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Executive Order 11246, Title IX of the Education

Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs or services.

Samford University is a Christian institution of higher education that has a moral commitment to the worth and dignity of all individuals. Samford's policy of opposition to sexual harassment and sexual assault is not only a legal responsibility and practical utility, but stems from the University's profound commitment to Christian and moral values as expressed in its mission and purpose.

Definitions:

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that provides guidance related to the dissemination of students' educational records. FERPA applies to all educational institutions that receive any type of federal funding administered by the United States Department of Education.

Sexual Assault is defined as physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent due to the victim's use of drugs or alcohol. An individual also may be unable to give consent due to an intellectual or other disability. A number of different acts fall into the category of sexual assault including, but not limited to, rape, sexual battery, and sexual coercion. All such acts of sexual violence are forms of sexual harassment prohibited by Title IX.

Sexual Harassment is conduct, including physical contact, advances, and comments in person and/or via phone, text message, email, or other electronic medium, that is (1) unwelcome; (2) based on sex or gender stereotypes; and (3) is so severe or pervasive that it unreasonably interferes with a person's academic performance or equal opportunity to participate in or benefit from University programs or activities. Sexual Harassment may include, depending upon the facts, persistent and unwelcome efforts to develop a romantic or sexual relationship; persistent and unwelcome commentary about an individual's body or sexual activities; threatening to engage in the commission of a sexual act with another person; stalking or cyber stalking; and engaging in indecent exposure. Title IX and this Policy prohibit gender-based harassment, which may include acts of verbal, nonverbal, or physical aggression, intimidation, or hostility based on gender, even if those acts do not involve conduct of a sexual nature.

Sexual Contact means the deliberate touching of a person's intimate parts of a person's body, or using force or coercion to cause a person to touch his or her own or another person's intimate parts.

Incapacitation means the physical and/or mental inability to make informed, rational judgments. States of incapacitation include, without limitation, sleep, blackouts, and flashbacks. Where an intoxicant is involved, incapacitation is a state of intoxication where the intoxicant consumed impairs a person's decision-making capacity, awareness of consequences, and ability to make fully informed judgments.

Consent means words or actions that show an active, knowing and voluntary agreement to engage in mutually agreed-upon sexual activity. Consent cannot be gained by force, by coercion, by ignoring or acting in spite of the objections of another, or by taking advantage of the incapacitation of another, where the actor knows or reasonably should have known of such incapacitation. Intoxication is not an excuse for failure to obtain consent. Consent is also lacking when the activity in question exceeds the scope of consent previously given.

Sexual Exploitation means taking sexual advantage of another person without consent, and includes, without limitation, causing or attempting to cause the incapacitation of another person; electronically recording, photographing, or transmitting intimate sounds or images of another person; and/or allowing third parties to observe sexual acts.

Sexual Misconduct of any kind is inconsistent with the University's values and incompatible with the safe, healthy, Christian environment that the Samford University community expects. Sexual misconduct prohibited by this policy encompasses sexual harassment, sexual assault, non-consensual sexual contact and sexual exploitation.

Individuals Who Suspect They Are a Victim of Sexual Misconduct (as previously defined):

Samford University is concerned about the health, safety and well-being of all members of the university community. If you, or someone you know, believe that you may be a victim of sexual misconduct, you are encouraged to seek immediate assistance. The following chart provides information related to where you can obtain assistance.

Reporting Sexual Misconduct

Reporting an incident of sexual misconduct is a difficult decision. It is important to understand that filing a report of sexual misconduct can be a beginning to the healing process. Reporting or pressing charges can prevent an offender from harming another person.

If a sexual assault occurs off campus, attempt to determine in which police jurisdiction the offense occurred and notify that department or call 911 for local police assistance. If the sexual assault occurs on campus, call 911 or 205-726-2020 to contact the Public Safety department. Although an assault may occur off campus, the victim may report the incident to Public Safety, which will assist the victim with contacting the appropriate law enforcement agency.

In addition to reporting to a law enforcement agency, a victim of sexual misconduct is urged to report the incident to the appropriate Title IX Coordinator. An allegation of sexual misconduct can be filed, as needed, by any member of the Samford community. A member of the Samford community may file a complaint of sexual misconduct against a "Samford student" under this policy. For purposes of determining the University's jurisdiction, a "Samford student" means any student who is registered or enrolled at the University (a) at the time of the alleged sexual misconduct (including sexual misconduct that is alleged to have occurred during any academic recess, provided that there is an expectation of such student's continued enrollment at the University), and (b) at the time that a formal complaint against such student is received by the Assistant Dean of Student Services. This policy applies to any allegation of sexual misconduct against a Samford student, regardless of where the alleged violation occurred. There is no geographical limitation to invoking this policy.

In cases involving potential criminal conduct, consistent with state and local law, the University will determine whether appropriate law enforcement or other authorities should be notified.

Policy Enforcement

Disciplinary actions for students – Sexual misconduct is a violation of Samford University's Code of Values. Investigation of sexual misconduct will be conducted by the Assistant Dean of Student Services, as Title IX Coordinator, and the Public Safety Department. Sanctions, for students found responsible for such violation, range from probation to expulsion from the University. In some instances, while an incident of sexual misconduct is being investigated, the University may implement interim measures as discussed more fully below. Hearing procedures governing student disciplinary cases are contained within this document and the Student Handbook.

Disciplinary actions for faculty and staff – Violations of this policy are addressed according to applicable Human Resources policies indicated in the Human Resources policies manual. University employees proved to be responsible for violating the sexual assault and sexual harassment policy may face disciplinary action ranging from a warning to dismissal from the University.

Retaliation

It is a violation of University policy to retaliate against any person making a complaint of sexual misconduct or against any person cooperating in the investigation of alleged acts of sexual misconduct. Certain retaliatory acts may also subject the perpetrator to criminal prosecution. Retaliation includes, but is not limited to, intimidation, threats or harassment against any complainant or third party. Individuals who are alleged to engage in retaliatory tactics may face disciplinary action independent of the sanction or interim measures imposed in response to the underlying allegations of sexual misconduct. Retaliation should be reported promptly to the appropriate Title IX coordinator.

Effect of Criminal Proceedings

Because sexual assault may constitute both a violation of University policy and criminal activity, the University encourages students to report alleged sexual assault promptly to local law enforcement agencies. Criminal investigations may be useful in the gathering of relevant evidence, particularly forensic evidence. Because the standards for finding a violation of criminal law are different from the standards for finding a violation of this policy, criminal investigations or reports are not determinative of whether sexual assault, for purposes of this policy, has occurred. The filing of a complaint of sexual assault under this policy is independent of any criminal investigation or proceeding, and (except that the University's investigation may be delayed temporarily while the criminal investigators are gathering evidence) the University will not wait for the conclusion of any criminal investigation or proceedings to commence its own investigation and may take interim measures to protect the complainant and the University, if necessary.

Complainant Does not Wish to Pursue a Formal Hearing or Requests Anonymity

If the complainant does not wish to pursue a formal hearing and/or requests that his or her complaint remain anonymous, Title IX nevertheless requires the University to investigate and take reasonable action in response to the complainant's request. The Assistant Dean of Student Services will inform the complainant, however, the University's ability to respond may be limited. In such cases, Title IX requires the University to evaluate the complainant's request that the complaint not be subject to a formal hearing or remain anonymous in the context of the University's commitment to provide a reasonably safe and non-discriminatory environment for all students. Even if the University cannot take disciplinary action against the accused student because the complainant insists on anonymity or that the complaint not be subject to formal review, Title IX nonetheless requires the University to take prompt and effective action to limit the effects of the alleged sexual assault or harassment and to prevent its recurrence.

Interim Measures

In all cases of alleged sexual misconduct, regardless of whether the complainant wishes to pursue a formal hearing, the University will undertake an appropriate inquiry and take prompt and effective action to support and protect the complainant, including taking appropriate interim steps before the final outcome of the investigation and hearing, if any. The Assistant Dean of Student Services, as Title IX Coordinator, may impose a no-contact order, which typically will include a directive that the parties refrain from having contact with one another, directly or through proxies, whether in person or via electronic means, pending the investigation. The Assistant Dean of Student Services may take any other protective action he deems appropriate, including, without limitation, directing appropriate University officials to alter the students' academic, University housing, and/or University employment arrangement.

Incident review

When a victim reports an alleged act of sexual misconduct, the appropriate Title IX Coordinator will initiate an investigation into the incident within 48 hours. A typical investigation will be completed within sixty (60) days, if not sooner. The Title IX Coordinator will prepare a written report which will be distributed, concurrently, to both parties, and in a case where the accused is a student, to the Values Council.

Values Council Procedures

The following procedures guide the Values Council's review of sexual misconduct allegations. While the procedures are a guide, the procedures may be abbreviated or modified due to the nature of the allegations or the security of the campus environment.

In all cases a preponderance of the evidence standard will be used to determine whether there has been a violation of this policy (i.e. it is more likely than not that the sexual misconduct occurred).

- I. Any member of the Samford community can file a complaint, as needed, of sexual misconduct against a Samford student by filing an incident report in the office of the Assistant Dean of Student Services. While it is best that the victim files the report, based on the circumstance of the case a report may be filed by a third party.
- II. The accused student will receive written notification (Value Violation response form) of the alleged violation along with written evidence supporting the alleged value violation.
- III. Within 48 hours of receiving the Value Violation form, the student must return the response form to the office of the Assistant Dean of Student Services. The accused student will have an opportunity to admit or deny responsibility and offer an initial description of his/her perception of the events in question. Failure to return the form could result in additional sanctions.
- IV. The Assistant Dean of Student Services will conduct an incident review and prepare a written report which will be distributed, concurrently, to both parties as well as the Values Council.
- V. The Assistant Dean of Student Services will schedule a Values Council hearing to review the incident in question. The accused and complainant will be informed of the date, time, and location of the hearing. The complainant and the accused will both be afforded similar and timely access to information that will be used at the hearing. Access to information will be provided consistent with FERPA. At the hearing the following procedures are to be used:

- a. The accused will be provided an opportunity to hear and respond to the charges of the alleged violation.
- b. Individuals who are permitted to attend the hearing are the accused, the complainant, the person filing the report, the university advisor of the accused, the university advisor of the complainant, and approved witnesses. No other parties are allowed to attend the hearing. Based on the nature of the incident, the complainant may be given an opportunity to provide testimony apart from the accused.
- c. All questions will be asked by members of the council. The accused will not be able to directly question the complainant and vice versa. Any questions posed by either must be asked through the Values Council's chair.
- d. Testimony will be given by witnesses, the complainant, the person filing the report, and the accused. Character witnesses may not attend the hearing unless cleared by the Assistant Dean of Student Services. The complainant and the accused will both have an equal opportunity to present relevant witnesses and other evidence.
- e. After all testimony is heard and evidence received, the Council will hold deliberations and have up to 10 days to render a decision related any responsibility and sanctions. Within ten (10) calendar days from the date the decision is made, the Assistant Dean of Student Services will provide to both parties, concurrently, a copy of the Values Council's written decision.
- f. Imposed sanctions will be communicated to both the accused and the complainant, the University's Assistant Dean of Student Services, and the Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment. The accused or the complainant may appeal the hearing's outcome based on permitted grounds for an appeal.

Appeal Process

The appeal of a Values Council decision is to the Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment Management.

Either party engaged in a sexual misconduct incident may appeal the decision of the Values Council. The request for an appeal must be within 48 hours of the notification of the outcome of the Values Council hearing. The grounds for appeal shall be limited to the following:

- University procedures and regulations related to Values hearing process were not followed
- New and compelling evidence that was not available at the time of the hearing
- The decision of the Values Council was not supported by the evidence presented at the hearing

The complainant or the accused has 48 hours from the time the notification of the hearing's outcome is sent to initiate an appeal. To initiate an appeal, the accused or the complainant must obtain the Appeal Form from the office of the Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment Management. Once the form is obtained, the completed form must be returned to the office of the Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment Management within 24 hours.

An appeal will not be automatically granted. Individuals requesting an appeal must fill out all questions on the form, and communicating clearly and completely why the case should be reviewed by the Appeal Council. Once the form is submitted back to the Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment Management, the completed Appeal Form, along with the requestor's reason for the appeal, will be submitted to the Values Council's chair for review and response.

The Chair's response and the requestor's form and reasons for an appeal will then be sent to members of the Appeal's Council. By simple majority, the Appeal Council can decide one of the following:

- Affirm the original decision and sanction
- Affirm the original decision and modify the sanction
- Reverse the decision
- Review the case and all the evidence

The Appeal Council's decision will be given by the Chair to the University's Assistant Dean of Student Services who will notify both parties in writing within 48 hours of the decision.

The decision of the Appeal Council is final except in instance of immediate expulsion. In such situations, the accused may seek a review from the Vice President of Student Affairs and Enrollment Management. The Vice President can review the case based on University policy and the evidence of the case. The Vice President's decision is final.

Hazing Policy

Minimum Sanction:

 - Second offense—University suspension
- By an organization:
 - First offense—Probation, $500 fine and loss of privilege
 - Second offense—University suspension of organization status

Hazing is a criminal offense in the state of Alabama. Insurance does not cover a felonious act. Penalties for hazing are very severe.

Values and Policies

Responsibility

Every individual using computing and information technology resources is responsible for appropriate use. When a specific resource is assigned to a particular individual, that person is responsible for its proper use. For example, the person to whom a microcomputer workstation is assigned is responsible for the appropriate use of that workstation. When a user ID and password are issued to an individual, that person is responsible for all activities associated with that user ID. The burden of proper password security is on the person to whom the password is assigned.

Freedom of Expression

The electronic medium in itself does not enhance or take away from freedom of expression. Responsible expression should be conducted in a manner that is consistent with the mission and values of the university. This precludes forms of expression such as harassment, obscene or pornographic material, and any form of expression excluded by law. Also, freedom of expression does not extend to making official representation on behalf of the university without the approval of the appropriate university official.

Privacy

Electronic communications and documents are assumed to be private unless the creator has explicitly made them available to others. Their contents may not be examined without the permission of the owner, approval by designated university officials (as defined in the section on violations) or as required by law. In spite of this assumption of privacy, one must always be aware that material sent to another individual or placed in a publicly accessible area could be passed on without the originator's knowledge. Users of computing and information technology should not, for example, have an "expectation of privacy" when using e-mail. Furthermore, activities such as maintenance and/or troubleshooting of computing and information technology systems may sometimes require access to electronic communications and documents or transaction logs that are normally considered private. In such circumstances, privacy is still considered important and will be maintained if at all possible.

Confidentiality

Much of the information (e.g. payroll and grade information) stored in computing and information technology systems is considered confidential, and in some cases is protected by laws such as the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Legitimate access to confidential information is determined by factors such as job responsibility or permissions explicitly granted by the owner of the information. Those with such legitimate access to confidential information are to safeguard its confidentiality by knowing to whom such information may be released, and by not allowing its release in any form to unauthorized individuals. Access to any resources without proper authorization, whether or not they are considered confidential, is not permitted.

Intellectual Property Rights

Intellectual property rights extend to the electronic medium. Generally, the copyright for a work is owned by the creator of the work. This is true even in cases where the creator has not sought formal copyright protection. One should assume that a work retrieved over a network or by other electronic means is covered by copyright. Such works should not be redistributed unless permission to do so is explicitly given by the owner of the copyright. Making a work available over a network does not necessarily relinquish intellectual property rights, although it must be recognized that one's work could be widely distributed, which could jeopardize these rights. Computer software and documentation are also covered by copyright. Copying such documentation or software except as permitted in the copyright notice or software license agreement is illegal. University resources are not to be used to violate intellectual property rights.

Access to Electronic Materials

Access to a rich set of electronic materials through means such as campus networks and the Internet is an important part of the computing and information technology environment. However, university resources are not to be used to retrieve, store or distribute materials that are inconsistent with the mission and values of the university. For example, university resources are not to be used to retrieve, store or distribute materials that are pornographic.

Shared Resources

Many computing and information technology resources are made available on a shared basis. For example, a networked printer is a resource that is shared by several individuals. Activities that would have a detrimental effect on a resource, such as purposely causing an overload condition that deprives others of its use, are not permitted. For example, chain letters or mass mailings that degrade e-mail system performance are not permitted.

Global Community

With its connection to networks outside the university (such as the Internet), the university participates in a global electronic community. We must adhere to the policies of these external networks to ensure our continued participation in this community. Use of a resource external to the university must conform to the policies established by the provider of that resource.

Commercial/Personal Use

Commercial use of university resources could endanger its status as a nonprofit organization. Therefore, commercial use is not allowed without permission from the provost and executive vice president or the vice president for business affairs. Incidental personal use of computing and information technology resources is permitted as long as it does not have a detrimental effect on university-related use, is noncommercial and does not present a cost to the university.

Illegal Use

The use of university resources to commit a crime is a violation of university values. This includes activities explicitly covered by laws governing the electronic medium, as well as use of the electronic medium as a means to commit other crimes. Illegal activities will be reported to the appropriate law enforcement authorities.

Violations

Depending on the classification of the individual involved (faculty, staff or student), suspected violations of these values and policies will be confidentially reported to the provost and executive vice president, the vice president for business affairs, or the vice president for student affairs and enrollment management. Only these university officials (or the president) may authorize further investigation or review of materials which would otherwise be considered private or confidential. Such authorization is granted on a case-by-case basis and only as it directly relates to a suspected violation. Suspected violations will be processed in a manner consistent with standard university procedures as defined in faculty, staff and student handbooks. An individual's access to certain computing and information technology resources may be suspended during the processing of a suspected violation.

Improper use of computing and information technology may result in the violation of civil law as well as the criminal laws of local, state and federal governments. The investigation of such violations may be conducted entirely without the knowledge or participation of Samford University.

Modifications

Changes in technology or law may require regular revision of these values and policies. They will be reviewed at least annually under the direction of the chief information officer. Comments or suggestions concerning these policies may be directed at any time to either of these individuals. Final authority for changes rests with the President's Cabinet and/or the president. Current copies will be printed in faculty, staff and student handbooks and will be posted electronically on university-wide information servers.

Department of Transportation Services

Driving Regulations on Campus

Standard rules of the road from the city, county, and state, as well as directive signs and instructions by officers directing traffic, will be observed on campus.

All motor vehicle operators must have in their possession a valid operator's license and produce this item when requested by a Transportation Services employee or Public Safety officer. The speed limit on campus is 25 mph; however, any speed not safe for the conditions of the road, including vehicle and pedestrian congestion, will be enforced. Please observe no passing on campus.

Vehicle Registration

All motor vehicles operated on campus must be registered with the Department of Transportation Services, in the Transportation Services menu in self-service Banner at <https://portal.samford.edu>. The appropriate vehicle registration decal shall be affixed to the inside front left corner of the windshield, on the driver's side. Decals will be affixed by the adhesive on the decal and may not be affixed with tape or any other temporary means. No more than one current decal shall be affixed to any vehicle. The method of affixing decals on motorcycles will be determined on a case-by-case basis. Providing false information concerning the registration of a vehicle will subject the violator to disciplinary action.

If a student is a Non-Driver, he or she is required to submit their status as a Non-Driver in the Transportation Services menu in self-service Banner at <https://portal.samford.edu>. A Non-Driver is identified as a current student, enrolled in classes, who is not in possession of a vehicle on campus, and does not drive a vehicle on campus. This includes borrowing, and sharing of vehicles. If a student is borrowing or sharing a vehicle with another person, he/she is not considered a Non-Driver.

Cost

Student decals cost $20.00 each for annual use. Replacement or additional decals cost $5.00 each. Decals are not pro-rated, and are not refundable once they have been signed out and received. Charges will be placed on the student's account immediately upon registration in the student's Self Service Banner account. All vehicle registration decals expire yearly on August 31st.

Parking Zones

Between the hours of 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, parking by students is permitted only in the specific decal color zone. Other than these specific hours, parking spaces are open to all decals, except for spaces designated as reserved, fire lane, or handicap accessible. The specific decal color zones are determined according to the student's housing assignment. If a student's housing assignment changes, the student is required to complete the registration process again in Banner for their new decal assignment.

The following decals will be issued for the 2012-2013 academic year:

No Decal

In the event Transportation Services identifies a vehicle numerous times for being parked on the campus without a proper parking decal, students will receive an e-mail confirmation sent to their SU e-mail address when a citation posts to his or her account. On the fifth "No Decal" citation, the student will receive an e-mail indicating that a hold will be placed on his or her account. The hold will not be lifted until the student purchases a decal.

Parking Appeals Committee Guidelines

The Parking Appeal Committee does not recognize the following as reasonable excuses for violating the parking policies of the University:

1. Lack of knowledge of parking policies on campus
2. Late to class, appointments, practice, or other events on campus
3. Parking illegally for a short amount of time
4. Parking illegally because other vehicles were doing the same
5. There was not enough parking available
6. Financial hardship

Towing/Immobilization of Vehicles

Situations which may warrant towing of vehicles include, but are not limited to, the following: vehicle causing a safety hazard, obstructing traffic, blocking a fire hydrant, parking in a fire lane, parking in handicapped spaces, parking on yellow curbs, parking in loading zones or abandoned vehicles. Vehicles in persistent violation of traffic regulations are subject to towing and /or immobilization (wheel lock).

Communicable Disease Policy

Because of the seriousness of communicable diseases, and to protect the rights of those afflicted and the safety and welfare of others, Samford University has established a policy for students. Administration of this policy relies upon the initiative of the vice president for student affairs and enrollment management where students are concerned.

Communicable diseases/conditions are those listed as reportable by the State of Alabama Bureau of Disease Control (see list below). The Office of Human Resources and Student Health Services will answer inquiries from students as to which diseases are reportable and will provide other information concerning these diseases. These departments shall not release to anyone any information concerning a student who is or may be afflicted with a communicable disease, except as required by law.

Students who know, or who have reasonable basis for believing that they are or may be infected by a communicable disease, shall immediately report the same to the medical staff at Student Health Services. This information will be treated confidentially, except as otherwise required by law, and may be used by the university to make accommodations for the student's medical and educational needs.

Students infected with communicable diseases shall not automatically be excluded from initial enrollment or otherwise restricted in their access to the university's facilities or services unless, upon being informed that a student has a communicable disease, the university (its decision process coordinated through the vice president for student affairs and enrollment management) determines that exclusion or restriction is necessary to protect the welfare of the infected student or others. In making this determination, Student Health Services may determine that it is necessary to consult with the student's primary care physician or, with the student's knowledge and consent, other appropriate individuals.

Students, who acquire chickenpox while residing on campus, will be required to leave campus until it is determined by their health-care provider or Student Health Services that they are no longer contagious to others.

Student Complaint Process

Samford University is a community that respects individuals and their rights. The campus judiciary process is designed to afford fundamental fairness to students involved in violations of campus rules and regulations. The values violation process is well defined and is followed as a means of assuring fairness.

Issues occasionally arise outside the areas governed by the campus judiciary process. In the spirit of community, individuals should discuss candidly with those most directly involved their complaints, disagreements or misunderstandings, since those most directly involved deal best with most issues. It is a fact of group life that no individual can have his or her way in all circumstances. In cases where matters seem difficult to resolve, students may resort to this official student complaint process.

If a student has a complaint about an academic matter, the student should confer with the professor(s) or individual(s) involved. Should the concern persist, the student should speak with the chair or supervisor of the department. If resolution is not found, the student should confer with the dean of the school or college involved. If the issue cannot be resolved at the levels mentioned above, the student may take the concern to the Office of the Provost and Executive Vice President. If the issue remains unsettled, the student may present the concern in writing to the president of the university.

If a student has a complaint about a nonacademic matter, the student should confer with the individual(s) involved. If resolution is not found, the student should speak with the supervisor of the office or unit involved. If the issue cannot be resolved at the levels mentioned above, the student may appeal to the vice president who is responsible for oversight of the area at issue. If the issue remains unsettled, the student may present the concern in writing to the president of the university.

Samford University complies with applicable laws prohibiting discrimination, including applicable provisions of and amendments to Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Executive Order 11246, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs or services. Inquiries and concerns regarding this policy may be directed to the vice president for business affairs or general counsel, Office of Business and Financial Affairs, 200 Samford Hall, Birmingham, AL 35229, (205) 726-2811. This notice is available in alternative formats upon request.
