In order to mitigate the overly high price of casebooks, I use an older edition and encourage you to obtain it used or rent it, potentially buying it online in advance of classes. We will cover the more recent cases not in the older edition, but will do so through you reading the unedited versions of those cases as available online and in the library---I will guide you in the most efficient way of doing so. If you buy the more expensive 6th edition you will be fine, although you will have to correlate the page numbers, which will be given for the 5th edition. Even if you buy the later 6th edition, you would still need to read a number of more recent cases not included in that edition.
