Rising 3Ls Invited to Apply for Inn

Rising third-year students have the unique opportunity to become a part of an American Inn of Court, an organization which is dedicated to promoting the highest levels of professionalism. Cumberland is fortunate to be one of the few Inns in the country directly connected with a law school. Our Inn is the Judge James Edwin Horton Inn of Court named after a famous and courageous judge who graduated from Cumberland in 1899.

In this collegial environment, outside the courtroom and pressure of daily practice and study, members discuss legal practice, principles, and methods. Academicians, specialized practitioners, and complementing generalists provide a mix of skill, theory, experience, and passion. This fluid, side-by-side approach allows seasoned judges and attorneys to help shape students and newer lawyers with practical guidance in serving the law and seeking justice.

As a third-year student, you would be required to attend six Inn meetings throughout the course of the academic year. Membership provides a great opportunity to meet distinguished lawyers and judges and to be trained by them. There will also be significant mentoring opportunities and you will make invaluable contacts.

If you are interested in joining the Inn, send Judge Carroll an email with your resume and a short statement about why you would like to join by April 22.

Faculty Notes

On Tues. March 15, Cassandra Adams participated in a joint program with the Alabama Cooperative Extension program Estate Planning Basics in Moody, AL. She spoke to a group of St. Clair County residents about the importance of end of life planning.

On Sat., March 19, Adams served as guest moderator for the Aging in Alabama Symposium, hosted by Alabama A&M University in Huntsville.

On Mon., March 21, Adams was a conference panelist at the American Society on Aging National Conference in Washington, DC. The panel discussion was about community collaborations and highlighted the joint project between Alabama Cooperative Extensions and the Cumberland Community Mediation Center.

On Fri., April 8, Professor Woodrow Hartzog's '02 workshopped draft chapters from his forthcoming book "Privacy's Blueprint: The Battle to Control the Design of New Technologies" at the University of California Berkeley Law School and also held a public talk on privacy and design at the school as well.

Hartzog moderated a panel on the rules of the Trans Pacific Partnership for the digital economy as part of the Association for Pacific Rim Universities Digital Economy Business Office meeting hosted by Keio University in Tokyo, Japan. More information about can be found online.
