Samford Specific W-2 Information

Once upon a time the wage amounts in the various boxes on your W-2 were mostly the same and usually contained your actual earnings for the year. As tax laws continue to get more and more complex, the amounts are made up of ever evolving formulas. To assist you in deciphering the information provided on your Samford W-2, please use the following helpful descriptions. Many boxes are still fairly self-explanatory so I did not list them. There are a few of you with somewhat unique situations that may not be addressed below, but this information should prove helpful for the majority of Samford employees.

Box 1: Federal Wages: Generally, your total earnings for the year plus the taxable portion of Samford provided life insurance, minus any pretax deductions you may have (i.e. health, dental and vision insurance, traditional pre-tax 403b, medical spending, dependent care).

Box 3: Social Security Wages: Generally, your total earnings for the year (up to the 2015 annual limit of $118,500) plus the taxable portion of Samford provided life insurance, minus health, dental and vision insurance, medical spending and dependent care but this box does include 403b contributions.

Box 5: Medicare Wages: Generally, your total earnings for the year (there is no limit on Medicare earnings) plus the taxable portion of Samford provided life insurance, minus health, dental and vision insurance, medical spending and dependent care but again, this box does include 403b contributions.

Box 12: Code C: This is the taxable amount of the premium for the Samford provided life insurance that is added to wage amounts to properly calculate tax liability as mentioned in descriptions for Box 1, 3, 5 and 16. This is calculated based on an IRS formula.

Box 16: State Wages: Generally, your total earnings for the year plus the taxable portion of Samford provided life insurance minus any pretax benefits you may have (i.e.: health, dental and vision insurance, traditional 403b, medical spending, dependent care).
