Semester(s) of Academics:  Fall 2017  Spring 2018

Instructions: Please view the courses offered the semester(s) you are taking academic classes (See Course Selection 101). Be sure to select the correct term in the course section search. Keep in mind that lower numbered courses are typically less demanding (i.e. Psychology 101 is easier than Psychology 301). In the US, university students usually take 4-5 classes at a time. In the spaces below, please list the top 10 titles and numbers that you are interested in taking. Once you complete the form, send it to jlbeck@samford.edu, your academic advisor. By doing so, you are not guaranteed enrollment in these courses. Your enrollment in these courses is subject to the prerequisites required, your English and math placement exams, and the course's availability. After review of your course list and consultation with faculty, you will be contacted by Skype to discuss the course selection and pre-register. During Bulldog Days orientation, your advisor will review your course schedule and make any changes necessary.
