

Securities Regulations

To register for Securities Regulations (Law 620) at Cumberland School of Law, students must have successfully completed Business Organizations (Law 526).

In appropriate circumstances a student may register for Securities Regulations without having completed Business Organizations PROVIDED the professor gives his/her approval. Because Securities Regulations assumes knowledge of Business Organizations, students who take Securities Regulations without the required pre-requisites may be at a disadvantage

In order to register for Securities Regulations without having completed Business Organizations, a student must:

- (1) sign the form, acknowledging that he/she understands the warning set forth above;
- (2) have the professor sign the form indicating the professor's approval; and
