

ENVIRONMENTAL / LAND USE LAW GENERAL COURSE GUIDE

An environmental lawyer represents corporate clients in the compliance with the various laws and regulations governing the environment or represents environmental groups or state actors seeking damages or injunctive relief for environmental harms to human health and to property. Students interested in environmental law may also obtain a Master's in Environmental Management together with their J.D. In addition to required courses, students interested in this area should take elective courses relevant to environmental law.¹

Core Courses:

Administrative Law
Environmental Law
Natural Resources Law
Toxic Torts

Recommended Courses:

International Environmental Law
Endangered Species Act
Land Use Law
Mass Torts
Oil and Gas
Sea, Ocean, and Coastal Law
Scientific Evidence
Construction Law
Real Estate Transactions
Complex Litigation

Recommended Experiential/Skills Courses:

Externships²
Negotiation

Related Courses:

Damages	Equitable Remedies	Torts II
Environmental Crimes	Legislation	Insurance Law

¹ Please consult the course schedule for current course availability. Courses may be offered in alternating years.

² Available externships and internships are posted on 12Twenty. The Director of Externships and the Director of the Career Development Office may be contacted for additional information.