What is Relevance and How is It Measured?

- Relevance is a measure that taps into the emotional connection people have with social accounts. People are drawn to the most relevant accounts – the ones that connect with them on a deep emotional level (both positively and negatively).
- An example from the realm of human relationship development demonstrates the significance of relevance. When you agree to go on a date with someone, there is something that initially attracts you to the other person -- something that differentiates them from other people. However, relevance is much deeper than the initial attraction. "Relevance is the one you marry because you cannot live without them. It is emotional and irrational, but the bond is strong." (Elliot Schreiber, Ph.D.).
- How are Relevance Scores Calculated?
 - The relevance rankings are based on a deep dive into social media data from followers of the American Solidarity Party. Our analysis which is powered by Affinio, utilizing audience intelligence technology, advanced machine learning algorithms, and unsupervised segmentation technology, tap into billions of interest variables and network connections.
 - According to ADWEEK, "Social media data is a remarkable source of unsolicited, unbiased consumer data. Interest and interconnectivity trends can help creative marketers "collect dots" in social spheres where they have no experience, no exposure, and no gut feelings to rely on.
 - Audience insight platforms like Affinio can help bring unfamiliar audiences into focus. By mining millions of social interactions, these tools can identify shared behaviors and patterns that make each audience segment unique. You are no longer constrained to having real-life experiences and observations. You can now sit behind your keyboard and play cultural anthropologist, learning valuable details about your audience such as; trends, topics, celebrities, brands and publications they follow, words they use to describe themselves, hashtags they use, memes they post, etc."
- Interpreting the Relevance Score Metric
 - The relevance score, found in the lower right corner of each box, is a custom metric of a social accounts significance to ASP followers based on its affinity score (how many times more likely ASP followers are to have an interest in the social account as compared to the U.S. population as a whole on the social network), audience size, and the number of members who already have this interest.

A neutral observation: arguably, no other news org in the world could invest as much time/resources into Trump tax investigations as @nytimes has. Maybe @washingtonpost @propublica too? 3 reporters; unlimited time. Support investigative journalism as a bulwark of democracy.

I love that the mainstream media position is "yes the CIA did bad things in the 50s, 60s, 70s, 80s, 90s, and 2000s but nobody was ever prosecuted and there were no reforms so now they don't do bad things today you conspiracy theorist."

When "all of this" is over, all the working moms should book a giant fleet of cruise ships filled with kegs of margaritas and staffed with a 24-7 Massage Service Corps and sail to an undisclosed location for an indefinite period of time. Then maybe, just maybe, we will be okay.

the abortion debate is not about whether unborn children are living human beings (objectively, they are), it's about whether or not you believe that group of human beings is disposable.
